Disaster Threatens Drought-Stricken Southwest States

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Governors of five drought-stricken states will meet in Amarillo, Tex., Friday to discuss what state governments might do to help farmers and livestock men fight the Southwestern disaster.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas announced the meeting Monday as arguments over drought aid raged in Congress and among cattlemen.

Sections of Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Kansas and New Mexico are in their fourth year of drought with pastures dried to dust and crops destroyed.

Prayers For Rain

No rain was reported in Texas Monday and temperatures climbed above 100 degrees over much of the state. At Shivers' request, Texas ministers had led their congregations Sunday in prayers for rain.

The Texas disaster relief director said 77 communities in the state have been forced to ration water. Director William L. McGill warned of a public health problem from water obtained from "questionable sources."

Panhandle cattlemen invited stockmen from four other states to meet them in Dalhart, Tex., Thursday to urge direct price supports. O. H. Finch Sr., a Kansas and Texas rancher, accused directors of the big livestock associations of being so rich from oil "they can afford rugged individualism."

Five Governors

Governors expected to take part in the Amarillo discussion are Dan Thornton of Colorado, Edward F. Arn of Kansas, Johnson Murray of Oklahoma, Edwin L. Mechem of New Mexico and Shivers. Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who made a first-hand inspection of the Texas drought situation June 27, will be invited to send a representative to the governor's meeting.

In the Senate, Minority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) called on Benson to launch a 118 million dollar cattle aid program. he charged the administration plan to provide eight million dollars in aid was "just enough to liquidate the remaining assets and (give the rancher a coach ticket out of the disaster area."

A statement from Benson urged cattlemen to go slow in selling off their herds in a "mistaken belief" that the price outlook is hopeless. The House Agriculture Committee approved a bill to provide emergency credit to farmers and stockmen.

Chinese Resume Korean Attacks

SEOUL (AP)—More than 3,000 Chinese snapped four days of rainy silence on the Korean battlefront today with savage attacks against American and South Korean troops guarding hill positions on he Western Front.

Three beefed-up Red battalions charged through ankle-deep mud up the slopes of Pork Chop Hill and Arrowhead Ridge, about five miles apart.

The furious battles, fought in water soaked trenches with pistols gun butts and knives, opened late Monday night as the Reds boomed thunderous artillery and mortar barrages against the hills.

But after hours of fighting in which the Chinese surged up and down the slopes of both outposts, infantrymen of the U. S. Seventh Division and ROK Second Division were reported holding stubbornly.

At last report, the Seventh Division said it was holding the crest, eastern and forward slopes of Pork Chop Hill. The ROKs hung grimly to the top of Arrowhead.

U. P. Families Get ... Serum For Polio ...

MARQUETTE (AP)—Gamma globuline polio serum was given Monday to families and close contacts of three small boys, one from Munising and two from Ironwood, stricken with infantile paralysis in recent days. None of the youngsters was reported in serious condition. Physicians are hoping to control the spread of polio that hit 168 and claimed nine lives in 1952.

Investigation In Condon Bomb Ban Suggested

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Keating (R-NY) today suggested a congressional committee investigation to determine whether the Atomic Energy Commission acted properly in barring Rep. Condon (D-Calif) from witnessing an atom bomb test.

Rep. Price (D-Ill), a member of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, termed the barring of the representative, which Condon said was since rescinded, "very unfortunate." Price added, "I don't think there was any occasion for it."

A Washington dispatch to the New York Herald Tribune said today that Condon "has been under study as a security risk by the military services as well as by the Atomic Energy Commission."

"Public Statement"

Condon announced he would take the House floor, probably this week, "to make a full and public statement as to my position."

The California freshman lawmaker said in an interview yesterday he was one of nearly 100 congressmen who accepted an invitation extended to all members of Congress to witness an atomic explosion in Nevada last May.

He said two men met him at Las Vegas and "told me I could not see the test because of security reasons."

Dean Concedes Mistake

Later, Condon said, former Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy Commission admitted "some sort of mistake." Condon said, "My status with the commission now is the same as any other member of this Congress."

Keating, a member of the House Judiciary Committee and chairman of a subcommittee which is investigating the Justice Department said in an interview:

"I suppose the executive branch has the power to exclude any member of the legislative body from access to information of a sensitive character. That happens all the time. None of us are given all the information some executive branches have, nor would we want to have it.

Entitled To Hearing

"I would think that in this specific case, Rep. Condon could want to have an opportunity of a complete hearing before an appropriate committee of Congress, to determine whether the executive branch acted properly in excluding him from this information.

"It seems to me he is entitled to such a hearing, if he requests it."

The Atomic Energy Commission maintained a strict silence on the incident.

White house Press secretary James C. Hagerty also declined comment, saying it is "entirely a matter for the Atomic Energy Commission."

Adding More Vitamins To Milk Is Debated

LANSING (AP) — A proposed rule permitting dairymen to fortify milk with a variety of vitamins got a thorough airing Monday by proponents and opponents at a hearing before the State Commission of Agriculture.

The commission took the new regulation under advisement.

Objections were raised by spokesmen for the Michigan Health Officers Association, Michigan State College home economics department and University of Michigan school of public health.

Support was voiced by Dr. Joseph Molner, Detroit city health officer, and representatives of the Michigan Milk Producers Association and Wayne University medical school.

tate regulations now permit only vitamin D to be added to whole milk.

The proposed rule would allow the addition of vitamins A, D, B1, B2, niacin, iron and iodine, plus the addition of those vitamins and non-fat solids to skimmed milk.

The objectors argued that milk now is the nearest perfect food found and should not be changed. They expressed fear that illness might result from excessive use of vitamins.

Poponents contended that vitamin additions would make milk a more healthful and balanced food, would provide a more economical method of obtaining vitamins in the daily diet and would increase milk sales.

Dairymen indicated vitamin-enriched milk would cost about one cent more per quart.

Tax Collector Begins Jail Term

DANBURY, Conn (AP)—Former Boston Internal Revenue Collector Denis W. Delaney began serving a year and a day sentence Monday in the federal correctional institution here for accepting a $2,500 tax bribe.

Fired in 1951 by President Truman, Delaney was accused of accepting a check from a Daniel Friedman of New York in 1949 to influence the collection of money in a tax delinquency case.

Delaney also was fined $5,000, which he paid last Friday, after pleading guilty June 26.

14-Year-Old Killer Judged Delinquent In Sturgeon Bay

STURGEON BAY, Wis. (AP)—Fourteen-year-old James Duranty was judged a delinquent Monday in the slaying of a a neighbor couple and was committed to the custody of the State department of Public Welfare until he is 21. A mental report said he evidenced neither an unbalanced nor deficient mind.

Dist. Atty. Herbert Johnson told newsmen, who were barred from the juvenile court proceedings, that James would be sent to the State School for Boys at Waukesha.

The husky youth told authorities he liked the neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Harris, and that he does not now why he fatally stabbed them last week.

Wisconsin law says no one under 16 may be prosecuted as a criminal.

Ford Employes In Windsor Dismissed

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Nearly 1,500 employes of Ford of Canada will be dismissed next month because of a shift of auto assembly operations to a new plant at Oakville, Ont.

The company said Monday notices had already been forwarded to the affected employes, most of them temporary workers.

THEY COME OUT HERE — Motorists know how the coins go into Escanaba's parking meters, but Robert Curran, city employe, knows how they come out. He is pictured winding one of the 516 meters so far installed after collecting last week's take totaling $589.28. The coins go from the meter box down the funnel into the locked vault on wheels and thence to City Hall. (Daily Press Photo)

Politicians Speculate On Story Vandenberg To Seek Senate Seat

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING (AP)—For a hot weather political subject, take the suggestion that Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, retired U. S. Air Force chief, might become a candidate for U. S. senator from Michigan.

Politicians have considered the suggestion a little shop-worn. It has been going around for at least two years. Now it's alive again, at least for speculation.

It is based on the theory that the name Vandenberg would be political candy in Michigan. The general is a nephew of the late U. S. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg.

Living Is Colored

Until this week, the idea received little political consideration because Gen. Vandenberg recently established residence in Colorado Springs, Colo. That would be a poor base for a political campaign in Michigan.

But Monday a nationally-syndicated political columnist (Drew Pearson) said Vandenberg had talked to ex - President Truman about running against U. S. Senator Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.), whose term expires in 1954. Expressing doubt whether he was a Republican or Democrat, Vandenberg is supposed to have secured Truman's promise to talk to Gov. Williams about it.

Williams, who is known to be considering a race against Ferguson himself next year, was very non-committal about Vandenberg at his press conference yesterday.

"I am inclined to think," the governor said, "the Democrats will have one or more candidates who will take care of Mr. Ferguson quite amply in 1954. Of course, some are ungracious enough to think that Ferguson will take care of himself before that comes about."

(This was a reference to reports Ferguson will not be "allowed" to run again by Republican leaders, but will be boosted upstairs some place safe).

Williams then got in a little anti-Eisenhower plug by saying "I am sure many Democrats and Republicans agree with Mr. Truman that Hoyt Vandenberg is a very excellent person, one who has served his country well and has had rather summary shrift from the present administration."

Harry F. Kelly's Son Is Critically Hurt In Accident

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Former Gov. Harry F. Kelly of Michigan raced to the bedside of his son critically injured here Monday in a freak accident in which a close friend of the family was killed.

The victim was Miss Eleanor M. Kelly, 50, a school teacher from Belmont, Mass.

The former Republican governor's son, Roger, 17, was on the critical list last night at Indian River Memorial Hospital, but doctors said the youth was "holding his own."

Another passenger, James Galvin, 17, was treated for a broken arm.

Police said young Kelly was driving on US-1 when a dog bounded into the highway. Kelly swerved to avoid hitting the dog and the car ran off the road, hitting a parked truck.

U. S. Securities Quickly Sold Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government says it has sold its counters bare in its biggest single money-raising offering since World War II—5½ billion dollars worth of tax anticipation certificates.

The securities are being sold at discounts equivalent to 2½ per cent interest and can be used at full value in eight months to pay taxes.

They were oversubscribed in a single day, the Treasury said Monday.

The issue is to help finance the government during the next three months when spending goes on, but tax receipts are light.

Crewmen Removed From Grounded Ship

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—Navy small craft removed 47 crewmen from the grounded American freighter Cornhusker Mariner today, leaving only the captain and six men aboard the ultramodern cargo carrier.

Rescue tugs were rushing to the scene.

The big 14,000-ton freighter, completed the past year at a cost of seven or eight million dollars, was slammed by heavy seas into Lighthouse Rock as she was anchored off Pusan harbor early today.

New Parking Meters Jingle Tune Of $589

The coins that last week went into Escanaba's new parking meters came out yesterday — all $589.28 of them including one quarter and a Belgian two franc coin that shouldn't have been there.

Robert Curran, city employe who collects the coins each Monday with a vault on two wheels, made three trips to City Hall with the proceeds, which filled a 10-gallon garbage can.

The garbage can, explained City Comptroller Alfred Lawrence, is a new one with a lock on it. The city comptroller's office is responsible for collections.

Over Council Estimate

Collections for last week (a five-day week because the meters were not operated on the July Fourth holiday) were above what had been anticipated by Escanaba City Council.

The City Council had estimated the annual take from the meters at about $16,000. On the basis of yesterday's collections, Comptroller Lawrence estimated the total would run between $22,000 and $25,000 for a 12-month period.

The city comptroller is of the opinion that this week's proceeds, when tallied, will total about $700; that collections will continue high during the summer tourist season and will drop off in the winter months.

Few Meters Damaged

The collections for last week included the following number of coins: 29,478 pennies, 5,205 nickels, 340 dimes, and one quarter. The machines are not supposed to take quarters, but it did. A meter also received a Belgian two franc piece the size of a nickel.

Few meters have been damaged, the comptroller reported. Glasses were broken in three of the machines, toothpicks had been forced into the coin slot in a couple, and one youth who set off a firecracker in the winding mechanism was arrested and fined.

Curran, employed as a meter reader, spends one day each week making collections from the parking meters. He collects, sorts, and counts the coins and is bonded by the city as a guarantee against loss in event of robbery.

Witness Tells Of Spy Network

CHICAGO (AP)—A former Navy bureau of ordnance engineer disclosed Monday the existence of an underground network of Communist subversives operating in government departments, the Chicago Tribune reported today.

The Tribune reported that Max Elitcher, 33, identified as a close friend of executed atomic spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, testified before the House Committee on un-American Activities in New York.

The paper said Elitcher's testimony was heard in secret session at the demand of the Justice Department which asserted national security was involved.

"Important" Witness

In New York Monday, committee member declined to identify the witness specifically to newsmen but it was learned he apparently was Elitcher. A committee spokesman would identify the witness only as "a very, very important" one.

The Tribune said Elitcher described how Communist cells infiltrated the Navy, Commerce and Agriculture Departments and identified their members. Most of those named are still in Washington, the paper said, but it is understood all have left the government since 1949.

The Tribune gave this account of Elitcher's testimony.

Elitcher and his wife, Helene, were close friends of the Rosenbergs and Morton Sobell, who is serving a 30-year sentence for the atomic espionage conspiracy for which the Rosenbergs died in the electric chair.

Sobell Headed Group

Elitcher and Sobell went to Washington in 1938 to work for the Navy bureau of ordnance, and Sobell recruited Elitcher into the bureau's Communist cell, of which Sobell was chairman.

Members of this group had access to classified information below the classification of top secret, but Elitcher denied knowledge of any actual spying.

Elitcher testified the Rosenbergs sought to enlist him in espionage in 1944. Particularly, he testified. Rosenberg asked for plans of Navy fire control and gun aiming device on which Elitcher was then working. The witness said he evaded Rosenberg's request.

Soviets Execute German Police

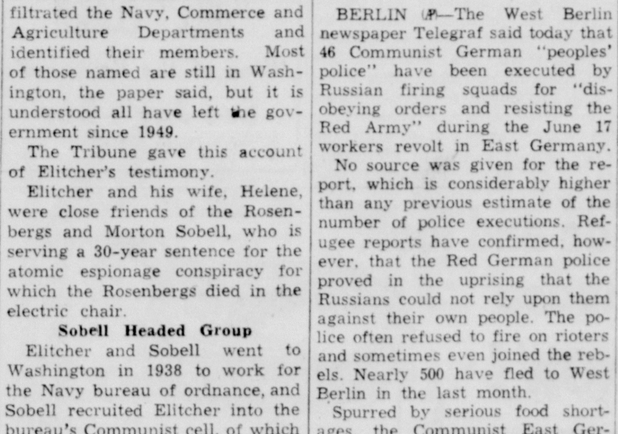

BERLIN (AP)—The West Berlin newspaper Telegraf said today that 46 Communist German "peoples' police" have been executed by Russian firing squads for "disobeying orders and resisting the Red Army" during the June 17 workers revolt in East Germany.

No source was given for the report, which is considerably higher than any previous estimate of the number of police executions. Refugee reports have confirmed, however, that the Red German police proved in the uprising that the Russians could not rely upon them against their own people. The police often refused to fire on rioters and sometimes even joined the rebels. Nearly 500 have fled to West Berlin in the last month.

Spurred by serious food shortages, the Communist East German government held out new promises to disgruntled farmers today to lure them into delivering quotas asked from the new grain harvest.

Quotas were reduced and more credit and farm machinery promised, according to the West Berlin Morgenpost.

Demonstrations in front of empty food stores were reported in many sections. The harvest, which began last week, is expected to be slim because so many experienced farmers have fled to the West, and those remaining have been hampered by Communist Red tape and lack of equipment.

AMMO BLASTS ROUT 3,000—A lightning blast in Chicago touched off the propelling charges of anti-aircraft shells in an Army ammunition dump, producing a post-Fourth of July display. Police evacuated some 3,000 persons from homes in the area but no one was reported injured. (NEA Telephoto)

Truce Blocked By Demands Of Korean Leader

SEOUL (AP)—The Communists late today called for a meeting of liaison officers in Panmunjom Wednesday, touching off speculation they are ready to answer a U. N. proposal to sign a truce now whether or not South Korea objects.

The officers, who normally arrange meetings of the full armistice delegations, will meet at noon (9 p. m. CST) today.

SEOUL (AP) — An authoritative South Korean source said today efforts to win President Syngman Rhee over to an armistice are doomed to failure unless the U. S. produces "a new proposal satisfactory to Rhee."

President Eisenhower's truce envoy Walter S. Robertson did not meet with Rhee today—the third time in 12 days they have not conferred the two day meet Wednesday.

The Rhee-Robertson talks are deadlocked as a result of Rhee's insistence that the U. S. agree to resume fighting if a post-armistice political conference fails to progress toward peaceful unification of Korea within three months.

Can't Meet Demand

Robertson reportedly has told Rhee the U. S. never can meet such a demand.

One highly competent source said last week that Robertson told Rhee the U. S. would stage a joint walkout with South Korea from a political conference if the Communists used the talks to shield military operations.

He cited red infiltration into South Korea as a truce violation which might warrant such a walkout.

But Rhee reportedly snubbed the offer because it failed to meet his demand for a 90-day time limit.

Compromise Rejected

The South Korean source said Rhee turned down another compromise calling for a joint walkout if the political conference failed to make progress toward peaceful unification of Korea within 90 days. Then, the source said, the two nations would discuss at top level various methods of unifying Korea, including possible resumption of the war. But any action would have to be ratified by the U. S. Senate.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman in Seoul denied that Robertson had offered such a plan.

But the South Korean source, who is close to the secret talks, swore that it had been offered and rejected because Rhee disliked the provision requiring Senate ratification of any agreed upon action to unify Korea.

The source said the 78-year-old Rhee is adamant in his insistence that the U. S. provide solid guarantees that it will unify Korea either by negotiation or war.

"DYNAMITE"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) declared today South Korean President Syngman Rhee is "playing with global dynamite" and damaging the cause of world peace by balking efforts for a Korean truce.

Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a statement that Rhee's threat to carry on the fighting invites a possible military disaster which "could shatter the chances for world peace in our time."

"The brave South Korean boys who are holding two-thirds of the battle line today could by rash independent action—taking a suicidal offensive and severing themselves from the United Nations Command—end up by destroying not only themselves but the United States," Wiley declared.

Elect Tobin President Of Board Of Education

Claude Tobin Jr. was elected president of the Escanaba Board of Education at the board's annual organization meeting in Escanaba Junior High School Monday night.

The new president, who formerly was board secretary, succeeds Charles Follo, who last night was elected vice president.

The board also elected Mrs. N. L. Lindquist secretary and Dr. Louis P. Groos treasurer. Mrs. Irene Bartel was elected assistant secretary and treasurer.

Bonifas Loans Repaid

Tobin, owner of the Escanaba Taxi Company, was elected to the board in June, 1950. He is a former member of the Escanaba Planning Commission and former commander of the Cloverland American Legion post.

During the meeting last night board members received financial statements showing that the Escanaba school system operated during the past school year at a deficit of $23,328.86. On July 2, $50,000 was borrowed from the Catherine Bonifas bequest account to meet expenses, Supt. John Lemmer reported.

During the 1952-53 school year the Escanaba system received $725,452.80, including $68,924.29 borrowed from the Bonifas fund, and disbursements totaled $750,602.771. However, disbursement include $12,076.81 spent for building, $2500 loaned to the textbook fund, $68,924.29 repaid to the Catherine Bonifas bequest account, and $22,000 repaid to the Bonifas construction fund.

JHS Bonds $122,000

The school keeps separate accounts of the money bequeathed to it in the will of the late Mrs. Catherine Bonifas, and the gifts made to the board of education prior to her death. During the past school year, because of the state treasury deficit, the schools here borrowed over $68,000 from the Bonifas bequest fund.

During 1950-51 the board of education borrowed from the Bonifas gift account to construct the grandstand at the athletic field. The total amount on the grandstand loan has ben paid back to the Bonifas gift account,. Supt. Lemmer reporter last night.

Bonded indebtedness for the Escanaba Junior High School now is $122,000, board members were informed. During the past year, financial statements of the school show, $22,500 in bonds were paid and retired, and interest payments on bonded indebtedness totaled $6,615.

Appoint Advisor

The board of education last night authorized the school superintendent to proceed with negotiations for purchase of an area of two and a half blocks between S. 14th and 16th aves., and South 14th st., and the Golf Club as a possible site for a future elementary school. Some of the lots are owned by the Department of Conservation, some jointly by the city and Art Goulais, and some by Allan Tweedy.

Other action taken by the board last night was as follows:

Adopted a resolution appointing William Layman, of the M. S. Kuhns Company, advisor to James Frost, executor of the John P. Norton estate, for sale of the Escanaba Daily Press.

CLAUDE TOBIN JR.

Approved purchase of $5,000 bonds for school board officers.

Accepted communications from Dr. and Mrs. John J. Walch, expressing gratitude and satisfaction with the school's part in the education of their children; Vernon Uhlenfeldt, thanking the board and informing them of activities at a summer adult education workshop; and from Miss Georgiana King, who is resigning.

Accepted a check of $412.50 from the John P. Norton estate for the Anna C. Norton scholarship fund. The check represented proceeds from dividends on bank stock, James Frost, executor, informed the board.

Married Teachers

Accepted a $150 check from the Escanaba Woman's club for a scholarship.

Accepted the recommendation of Supt. John Lemmer for engaging Pellegrino Suriana of Sault Ste. Marie on the school faculty.

Authorized the superintendent to obtain insurance on two driver training cars, which will be ready for use in the summer driver training course by Wednesday. Forty-six students are enrolled for the course, Supt. Lemmer said.

At the close of the meeting the board acceped a survey of schools showing the number employing married women, and the type of restrictions included in the policy. The report was accepted for further study. No action was taken on employment of married women teachers here.

Lindquist New Head Of Rotary

Dr. N. L. Lindquist, Escanaba Rotary Club president for the ensuing year, yesterday at the club's luncheon meeting at the Delta Hotel received the gavel from Nevin Reynolds, retiring president.

Rotary's past president's pin was presented to Reynolds by Dr. Lindquist, who expressed the club's appreciation to the retiring president for one of the most successful year's leadership in the history of the Escanaba Rotary Club.

Other officers of the Rotary Club for the ensuing year are Atty. Denis McGinn, vice president, and Arthur W. Moberg, secretary treasurer.

Comprising the club's board of directors are the officers and Directors Carl Benzinger, Erling Arntzen, John Greene and Dr. Vernon Johnson.

The program yesterday was presented by Lawrence Erickson, manager of the Rotary Club sponsored Little League baseball team, and Dr. George Hagen, president of the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce Little League.

Erickson, Dr. Hagen and the Rotary Little League team were guests of the Rotary Club. Erickson presented the players and described the value of the program to the boys, some of the experiences of the team, and how it has won 7 and lost 2 games to lead the Leagues in standings at the first half of the season.

Dr. Hagen praised the Little League program to the boys and expressed appreciation to the team sponsors. The program was introduced by L. C. Harrison, Rotary program committee member.

Canadian Trucker Fined Here After Accident Today

Nicholas Tutt, 25, of Calgary, Alberta, Can., was fined $10 and paid court costs of $5 before Justice Henry Ranguette today after he was arraigned on a charge of failure to have his vehicle under control.

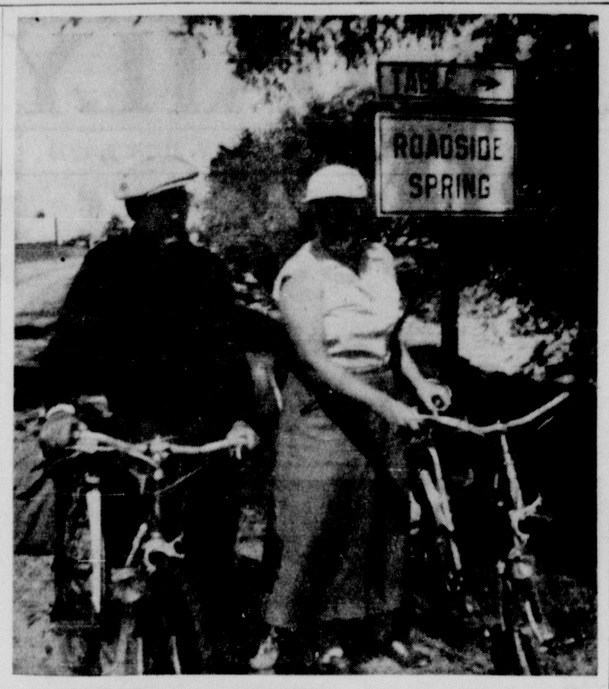

Tutt was ticketed by city police atfer a carry-all truck loaded with cars, driven by him, this morning crashed into the rear end of an oil truck driven by James W. Sallgren of Menominee. The accident occurred at 8:18 a. m., at the E&LS crossing on N. 21st St.

Damage to the Stang truck driven by Sallgren was minor, but the front end of the carry-all, owned and operated by Tutt, was considerably damaged.

Chicago Couple Pedals Through Vacation Trip

A Chicago couple, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mikula, find that a tour around Lake Michigan on their bicycles is one of the most enjoyable vacations they have ever had. They passed through the Escanaba-Gladstone area yesterday.

Northern Michigan found favor with the Mikulas. "That's really what we wanted to see was scenery like that," declared Mrs. Mikula.

The couple took the train from Chicago to Milwaukee, cycled to Green Bay via Sturgeon Bay, and from Green Bay took the train to Escanaba Monday morning.

Then, on their lightweight, gear-shift-equipped English bikes, they headed toward Sault Ste. Marie by bike. Previously they had taken short trips near their home. Expenses are averaging $15 a day, Mikula said. They carry their luggage in bicycle saddlebags — Mrs. Mikula has about 20 pounds, Mikula 30.

It is a healthy trip. "We never ate so much fruit and drank so much water in our life," Mrs. Mikula said. The one health problem of the trip—an exhausted, bushed feeling—was solved when the couple began taking salt tablets.

The trip came about when the couple's two daughters went away for part of the summer. The Mikulas had three weeks when both girls would be away.

"We have no definite schedule," said Mikula. "We just go along." They rise early, peddle 40 miles in an average day, and get off the road about 12:30. They prefer to stay in motels where they can keep their bikes inside.

Saturday the couple bicycled 12 hours. There were no motels between Sturgeon Bay and Green Bay, Mikula explained, so they had to keep going until they reached Green Bay.

The trip is their first long one

Thief Steals Prize Won By Trenary Man

Marvin Aho, Trenary, who won a new 5 h. p. outboard motor on the Fourth of July, felt pretty happy about it.

Later he felt pretty low.

Aho brought his prize home and put it in a shed at the rear of his house.

Next time he looked, it was gone. He never even had a chance to use it, he told Michigan State Police.

State police are investigating.

Polio Hits Three Marquette Boys

MARQUETTE — Three Marquette boys are poliomyelitis patients in St. Luke's Hospital, but mild paralysis has developed in only one of the cases, the City Health Department reported Monday.

The victims are a six-year-old boy, a three-year-old boy and a two and one-half-year-old boy, all from South Marquette.

The youngest, who has the paralysis, was admitted to the hospital Thursday. The others became patients on Friday.

All members of the immediate family and intimate contacts of the stricken children have been given the new polio serum (gamma globulin), the Health Department stated.

The serum is provided to the City Health Department by the Michigan Department of Health, through the cooperation of the American Red Cross.

The new cases brings the case load total for the Upper Peninsula for 1953 up to six. None of the other three victims is still hospitalized. One is from Munising and the other two from Ironwood.

There were 168 cases of the disease in the Upper Peninsula during 1952, the worst epidemic year in Upper Michigan's history. Nine proved fatal.

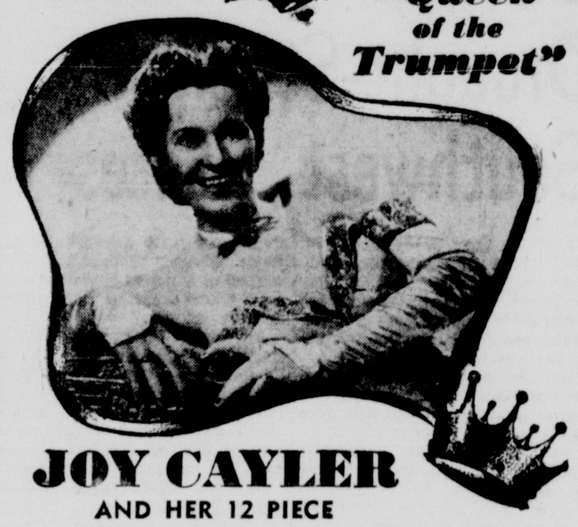

In 1905 when Norway had long been dissatisfied with its union with Sweden, she declared the union dissolved and the separation was made peacefully although war was threatened for a time.

Plan For Sale Of Daily Press

Atty. James E. Frost of Escanaba, executor of the John P. Norton estate, Monday night was authorized by the Escanaba Board of Education to immediately contact William Layman of the firm of M. S. Kuhns and company of Chicago for assistance in formulating and proceeding with plans for the sale of the Escanaba Daily Press.

The board action, which included a provision that Layman, a newspaper accountant, is to act in an advisory capacity for the executor, followed presentation of an opinion on disposition of the newspaper submitted by Attorneys Denis McGinn and James Fitzharris of Escanaba. The opinion was requested by the Board of Education, principal heir of the estate, and the executor.

In their report to the school board, McGinn and Fitzharris advised that the executor should reserve the right to reject any and all bids in the sale of the newspaper, and that bidders could make an alternate proposal which would provide participation in the purchase and operation of the Press by present employes of the Escanaba Daily Press.

"In order to learn of other ideas of the value of the property we believe that proposals for bids should be sent to those persons and any others whom you feel might be interested," the attorneys advised. In the report, it was noted that "upwards of 15" persons are interested in purchase of the newspaper.

The school board accepted the report of the attorneys and then instructed the estate's executor to contact Layman immediately.

The attorney's report to the board was preceded by a meeting last week attended by School Supt. John Lemmer, Charles Follo, president of the board at that time, Trustees Gust Peterson and Dr. Louis P. Groos of the Escanaba school board, and the attorneys.

The late John P. Norton, in a will dated Jan. 5, 1950, bequeathed his entire estate, with minor exceptions, to the Escanaba Board of Education to establish scholarships for deserving students. Since his death in July, 1950, the newspaper he owned has been published by the John P. Norton estate.

ATTORNEYS RECEIVE OATH — Two young lawyers, James Degnan (second from right), son of Mr. and Mrs. James Degnan, 1421 1st Ave. S., and William E. Beringer of Sheboygan, Wis., are shown at a swearing-in ceremony Monday afternoon in Circuit Court in Escanaba. The two now have the right to practice law in the state of Michigan. Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone is at left, and William E. Butler, county clerk, stands next to the judge. Judge Jackson advised the two lawyers to start their careers in small-town law, saying they would have the opportunity to handle all types of cases in such a practice. (Daily Press Photo)

CHINESE REPORT FAMINE

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communist radio at Chungking says the farmers in a huge rice area in Szechwan province are conquering a "serious spring famine." The area, bound by the Yangtze and Kialing rivers and the tows of Chunking, Wanhsien and Paoning, is triangular shaped and is about 200 miles deep and 300 miles across at its base, the radio said. The broadcast referred to it as a "disaster area" but said the peak of the famine had passed.

August Draft Will Call 30

Eight Delta County men will be called for induction and 22 for pre-induction in August, Draft Clerk Mary Wagner reported this morning.

The men will leave Escanaba Aug. 10 and will be examined Aug. 11 in Milwaukee, she said. Orders will be mailed for the August draft calls next week.

Next Monday, July 13, 11 Delta men report for induction and 17 for pre-induction. These will meet at 3:15 p. m., Monday at the draft board office, 1221 Ludington St., and will be examined in Milwaukee the following day.

Those in the July induction group are Wayne A. St. Pierre, Harold W. Sundelius, Richard H. Cleereman, Charles J. Neumeier, David L. Johnson and John H. Beaumier of Escanaba; Rudy J. Marcella of Cornell; James H. Clement of Garden; and Gerald L. Dufour of Wells. Richard L. Wohlen of 518 S. 8th St., originally in the Delta induction group, has been transferred to Dallas, Tex.

The pre-induction group leaving Monday consists of James R. Holt, John E. Villeneuve, William H. Anderson, Paul E. Dawson, Ronald R. Lantagne, Richard G. Larson, James K. Olson and John Ronald Beauchamp of Escanaba; Dale L. Erickson and Norbert C. Beauchamp of Bark River; Donald A. Nygard, Richard D. Whitney, Richard G. Hentz of Gladstone, Rte. 1; Cornelius P. Sochay of Nahma; Robert G. Gudwer of Perkins; Lee L. Larson of Rock, and Glenn Allen Anderson of Rapid River.

The July induction group will be led by Wayne St. Pierre and William Shideler and the pre-induction group by James Holt.

91 Attend Reunion Of Class Of 1928

Ninety-one persons attended the 25th year reunion of the Escanaba High School Class of 1928 at the Dells last evening.

Melvin Monson, vice president, gave the address of welcome, Rena Johnson Gallagher, class treasurer, and Lucille Greenless Green, class secretary, conducted the memorial service for the 10 departed classmates. Leone Trottier LaFortune of Winchendon, Mass. won the award for travelling the longest distance to attend the reunion. Ken L. Gunderman was toastmaster and Edna Hodson Groop, reunion chairman, read communications from members who were unable to attend.

Following the dinner program, the group enjoyed an evening of dancing.

Gladstone Hospital:

State Promises Further Survey Of Need In Area

GLADSTONE — Jacques De Laurier, Lansing, director of state office of hospital survey and construction, met with the Gladstone Hospital Authority and interested Gladstone citizens Monday night in Gladstone City Hall, but would give no definite committment as to whether he will approve Gladstone's application for federal aid to help build a proposed Gladstone hospital.

The state director had with him the preliminary report on a survey made recently by his office on hospital service in the Escanaba-Gladstone area. He said the survey revealed the need for additional hospital service in this area is not as great as his office previously estimated.

Accuracy of his statementes was questioned by Gladstone citizens present, who contended many persons are forced to seek hospitals outside the county because of inadequate facilities here, and that De Laurier's report showed only half of such cases.

De Laurier, who admitted there was a definite need for additional hospital beds in this area, said he would attempt to get information from outlying hospitals.

At the present time this area has the ninth priority in the state for new hospital beds, he said.

When funds are spent, the state director said, they wil lbe spent where the most beds can be obtained for the money. If more beds can be obtained by adding to present hospital facilities, that will be done. If more beds can be obtained by building a new hospital that will be done, De Laurier said.

Three Are Fined For Obstructing Conservation Men

Three men charged with obstructing conservation officers in the performance of their duties entered a plea of guilty before Justice Henry Ranguette this morning and were assessed fines of $25 each and court costs of $9.35 each.

They were Leonard LaLonde, 41, of Garden; Millard Reno, 21, of Sturgeon Bay, Wis.; and Michael Clements, 19, of Garden.

The men were arrested about midnight July 6 in Garden township by Conservation Officers Hugh Fisher of Nahma and James Walker of Ensign.

Conservation officers report the men were shining an artificial light in an apparent attempt to locate game, and that, upon seeing the conservation officers, the men fled in their car.

They were apprehended after conservation officers gave chase for three miles.

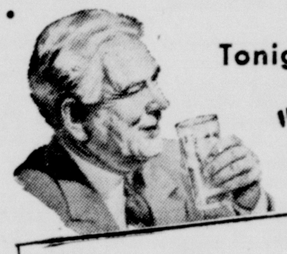

A door of the conservation officers car was damaged during the chase.

Reno paid his fine in court this morning and the other two are making arrangements to pay.

Over 400 Persons Were Killed In Holiday Accidents In U.S.

IT will be some time, of course, before all of the reports are in and tabulated but it seems that the accident toll for the long July 4 weekend did not reach the horrible figure of 1952 when 643 persons were killed in the holiday weekend.

There isn't anything to cheer about in analyzing the 1953 toll, however. In the first place, the holiday weekend this year was one day shorter than last year when July 4 fell on a Friday. It resulted in a three-day holiday for most people, compared to only two days this year.

The tentative figures for the past weekend show 427 persons killed, of which 258 were killed in automobile accidents. These totals are subject to upward revision and undoubtedly will be considerably higher when all of the reports are in. Another 120 persons were drowned.

True enough, we are gaining some headway on the accident rate, considering the annual increase in traffic. But the grim fact is that we are still mowing down people in highway accidents in a shameful manner. Most of the highway accidents could be prevented if motorists everywhere suddenly changed their driving habits and used common sense in their driving.

That is the real tragedy of our accident toll. We are killing people needlessly. Yet we are not yet seriously aroused to take some of the essential steps that must be taken to reduce the slaughter. We have not cracked down seriously on reckless drivers, for instance.

For every accident that occurs on the highways, there are numerous other potential accidents that do not happen because of the laws of chance.

The other day we watched one of these crazy drivers zig-zag in and out of traffic, force other motorists to jam their brakes and make room for him in the traffic lane. We saw him pass on hills twice. There was a potential fatal accident in each of those occasions but nothing happened. Chance. But some day and probably very soon, the odds will catch up to that guy and someone will be killed. It might be you, in addition to him. A way must be found to weed out these drivers and get them off the highways before fatal accidents occur. We will not lick the problem until we look for that solution.

Berlin Riots Show Red Hold Slipping

THE Russian attempt to blame "Western provacateurs" for the widespread uprising of Germans in Soviet Germany sounds almost like a pitful wail. It gains nothing from being alternated with feeble Communist admissions that many German complaints are justified.

The Russians really understand that the world knows this was a remarkable demonstration of bare-handed rebellion against oppressive authority—without hope of success. No provacateurs would send men to do battle against tanks with sticks and stones.

The riot-and-strike wave fanned out from East Berlin to envelop many other cities, and the Reds have been hard-pressed to bring them under control. At last reports, disturbances still were in progress in seven cities.

Altogether the Russians have arrested some 16,000 individuals for allegedly playing roles in these flare-ups and some feel tre total will climb to at least 30,000. Dozens of men have been executed by firing squad, and others killed by Russian tank, burp gun and rifle fire. Even children have been mowed down.

Despite all these cruel reprisals, the Germans have gone on refusing to work, sacking Communist offices, scuttling ships, damaging mines and otherwise sowing havoc in the Soviet zone.

It can be no solace to the Russians that the allegedly docile Czechs also stirred in wrath against their masters at Pilsen and other centers. And there are reports, too, of trouble in Bulgaria and Rumania.

The Russian is pictured as a great bear whose paws pack a powerful punch and who is yet agile and alert enough to outwit a bigger enemy. But the Russian is behaving like a clumsy dinosaur who feels the ground quaking beneath him and knows no defense but to stamp wildly upon any life that falls beneath his giant feet.

The Germans have disclosed the glibness of one of the most often-heard of latter-day political axions: that no people under a modern dictator's yoke dare rise in rebellion.

This was no full-scale revolt. But it suggests what might have happened had the Germans thought this the moment for a fight to the death. A comprehensive general strike, coupled with wholesale sabotage and continuous rioting, would be hard to combat. You cannot execute or imprison an entire population of 18 million.

The tremors from the events in East Germany have registered sharply on the seismographs in Moscow. The Russian grasp on the satellite lands has slipped. The effects of this powerful realization upon the men in the Kremlin may be profound for the mand for all the world.

Earning money before spending it is an excellent way to prevent gray hair.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Have you ever met a man who was always, as it were, carrying a chip on his shoulder, looking as if he dared you or anyone else to knock it off?

There's a very good word to describe such men, and an easy one to remember. They are truculent (TRUCK-yu-lent). Their manner is that of truculence (TRUCK-yu-lenss). For convenience in remembering, their manners may be compared to that of a truck driver who, when parking, has ruined your rear fender and says, "Aw, shud up," in a bullying manner when you ask to see his driver's license. We apply the terms only to people, to those of savage, brutal, fierce appearance or attitude, but the Latin forerunners were applied, not alone to people, but to aspects of nature that were forbidding, harsh, wild, or stormy.

As just stated, actually a person whom we consider truculent may merely have that appearance. Like a great bulldog with his undershot jaw, looking as if he would enjoy tearing you limb from limb, the man who looks truculent may have the friendliest disposition in the world. But that does not apply to a person or beast that we would term ferocious (fe-ROH-shus). In such a one the very disposition is savage, fierce, and murderous. A tiger or panther, for example, when in repose may look to be as gentle as a kitchen, but it has nothing kitten-like in its nature.

Although the term malignant (muh-LIG-nant) is now often applied to fevers or other illnesses that threaten death, there is scarcely a more unpleasant person to be met than the he or she who is malignant. From Latin malignus (mal, evil), the term means disposed toward evil, ill-natured; that is, having an inborn tendency to be harmful and injurious; one, as one writer puts it, "who hates and slanders on general principles."

Unlike the malignant person, one who is malicious (muh-LISH-us) is moved to spite, ill will, or enmity against another because of some real or fancied reason. His malice si not inborn, but brought about by some cause, and the malicious person will take some sort of action to relieve his feelings. The malevolent (muh-LEV-uh-lent) person, however, just "wishes evil," as the Latin source indicates—male, evil, and volens, wishing—and may do nothing active to bring it about.

Color Blindness Is Hereditary And Difficult to Overcome

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

The ability to see different colors is one of the remarkable attributes of the human eye and brain. Without it we would have few artists, none of us could appreciate the enoromous variety of color in nature, and those engaged in certain occupations would certainly be severely handicapped.

Color sense is a quality of that portion of the eye known as the retina, which records impressions through the optic nerve to the brain. Some color rays are not consciously appreciated, and some people are more aware of differences in shades of color than others.

But what we are interested in in this discussion are disturbances of the color sense known as color blindness.

Color blindness is classified as either partial or total. There are three varieties of partial color blindness: one in which there is a lack of ability to "see" red (this is known as red blindness); another is inability to see green, and the third is deficiency in seeing yellow and blue, though red and green can be readily identified. The latter is rather rare.

The totally color blind are those who cannot distinguish any color, but only variation in the brightness of the object. To such persons the world is all black, white and gray.

Color blindness is of extreme importance, particularly the red green variety, to those in certain occupations, such as railway, air or marine service, because the ability to discriminate between red and green signals is of vital significance. Keen ability to discriminate colors is also of importance to many chemical workers, lithographers, painters and, of course, artists.

Most color blindness is inborn or congenital. It is believed to be truly hereditary and transmitted through the mother to the male children. This is probably responsible for the fact that it is 10 times as common among the male population as among the female; one man in 25 is said to be affected by some form of color blindness.

EXERCISE IS FUTILE

The question of treating color blindness has come up repeatedly, particularly in the last war, when many young men tried to overcome color blindness in order to get into the branch of service they desired.

True color blindness, however, cannot be overcome or improved by exercise, though it did seem at one time that some of those who had this difficulty made fewer mistakes after a period of training. Probably the most important thing to be said about color blindness is that those who are afflicted should be aware of their defect and govern their lives accordingly.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — A significant backstage battle over McCarthyism will be waged this morning when the McCarthy committee meets behind closed doors to discuss its executive director, J. P. Matthews, and his statement that "the largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus in the United States today is composed of Protestant clergymen."

Matthews, formerly employed by the Hearst newspapers, has recently replaced fair-minded "Frip" Flanagan, who for many years directed the Senate government operations committee of which McCarthy is now chairman. But when the committee meets today it will face a solid phalanx of three Democrats—Jackson of Washington, McCClellan of Arkansas and Symington of Missouri—who will demand that Matthews be fired.

The three Democrats can be out-voted by the four Republicans, but the interesting question will be whether all the Republicans will line up together. For three of the four Republicans are Protestants: Mundt of South Dakota and Potter of Michigan are Methodist; Dirksen of Illinois is a Presbyterian. McCarthy, the chairman, is Catholic.

During the closed-door debate, the three Protestant Republicans will have to decide whether to go along with their chairman or with the Protestant churches which have been attacked by committee director Matthews.

DERISION FOR SENATORS

It won't make him popular on Capitol Hill, but Secretary of Defense Wilson has taken to using the term "senator" derisively.

For example, at an off-the-record meeting of aviation moguls at Williamsburg, Va., Wilson delivered a short, pleasant speech, then called for questions from the audience. He got a critical one from ex-Air Force General Joe McNarney, now president of Consolidated Vultee Aircraft.

"I don't know who the hell you are," snapped Wilson, "but you sound like a senator.

To another critical question from ex-Army General Al Wedemeyer, Wilson snorted: "Let me tell you, Senator . . ."

Later, the Secretary of Defense shrugged off another question with the grumpy comment: "That sounds like another stupid senator."

Note—As wind of Wilson's attitude toward senators has drifted up to Capitol Hill, even Republican senators have been talking pointedly about Ike's getting a new secretary of defense.

BRITISH ADVICE ON RHEE

Field Marshall Alexander of the British Army has urged General Mark Clark to take the unusual step of arresting President Syngman Rhee if he continues to obstruct a truce in Korea.

Lord Alexander, who was General Clark's superior during the Italian campaign, says Britain wouldn't have put up with Rhee's defiance for ten minutes if he were in charge of negotiations.

American military men considered the idea of replacing Rhee with the chief of staff of the Korean Army, but President Eisenhower overruled them.

SENATE SARCASM

Wealthy, retired Charles Daw of Daytona Beach, Fla., was testifying before the Senate Judiciary Committee the other day against the appointment of James L. Guilmartin to be U. S. attorney for southern Florida.

"What is your occupation and profession? demanded Senator Herman Welker, Idaho Republican.

"I do nothing, sir," replied Daw.

"That is a wonderful occupation," remarked Welker.

"If you need a good partner," broke in Chairman "Wild Bill" Langer of North Dakota, "you could have one in Senator Welker."

PATRIOTIC CONGRESSMAN

GOP Congressman Robert Kean of New Jersey, who is leading the fight inside the House Ways and Means Committee to extend the excess profits tax, stands to lose $20,000—if he wins his fight. For Kean will have to pay an extra $20,000 on the excess profits of his bank, the Livingston National Bank of Livingston, N. J. That's $5,000 more than his total congressional salary.

Yet the congressman has unselfishly urged that the tax be continued and is one of the few Republicans inside the Ways and Means Committee voting against Uncle Dan Reed.

MURDER IN THE PENTAGON

It begins to look as if "Murder in the Pentagon" was not just the title of a detective story or a TV drama. Finding the decomposed body of John S. Johnson, a Negro mail clerk, in the trunk rack of his car now casts serious suspicion on the manner in which Lee E. Harden, a trusted Negro guard, was found dead at the bottom of a locked "security" elevator shaft two months ago.

Into The Past

The Escanaba City council has placed the development of Ludington park as No. 1 on its list of relief work projects. Other projects include street paving, storm sewers and construction of an electric generating plant.

Oh Boy! That Was a Narrow Escape!

Police Chief And His Neighbors Free Pewt Olive From Jail Term

By CLARK PORTEUS
NEA Special Correspondent

DES ARC, Ark. (NEA)—Pewt Olive is home again, to his wife and three kids and the townsfolk here who have come to understand the terror that can lie in an afternoon stroll through town.

Up until the time Pewt went away, almost any one of the 1600 residents in Des Arc could have recited his vital statistics. He was born Reavis Clinton Olive. At 31, he was tall, taciturn. And he was a good farmer, a good family man and honest as they come.

But in the 10 years that Pewt Olive lived here, nobody ever saw his kinfolk who were supposed to live in Lawrence County, Tenn. And why, everyone wondered, did he tremble and go pale if you knocked on his door at night?

There were other strange things, too. You couldn't get him to take a drink. Not even a glass of beer on a hot Arkansas night.

* * *

Police Chief Bud Mansell used to scratch his head about it. It was funny how sweat would suddenly stand out on Pewt's forehead if you met in town on an afternoon and began to ask him anything — how's the wife, the kids, the crops?

More than once John A. Jones, "boss" on Pewt's share crop farm, reported with wonder how his hard-working tenant would wait hot hours in the Arkansas sun to refund some of his pay check.

Pewt was like that, always sure he was worth just a little less than anyone else. You loved him for being your neighbor. But you wondered.

Then Pewt went away suddenly and the whole story came back to Des Arc.

* * *

Reavis Clinton Olive was back home in Tennessee, in the penitentiary beginning to serve out his two-to-ten year term for having killed a man.

When he was 19, he had gone on a beer drinking spree that had ended with a fatal knifing and a quick trial. At the time there was talk about bribed witnesses. But that was soon hushed up. And three and a half months later, when Pewt escaped from the Tennessee penitentiary, everyone was sure he'd been guilty.

For 12 years he had stayed away from his home, his family and what he was certain was another man's guilt. He finally settled in Des Arc, married, and began to build a new life.

* * *

"I just couldn't think of having to pay for another man's crime," he said later. "I was just a kid in those days, and there was a killing in the penitentiary every week or so."

But no matter how God-fearing, how scrupulous he lived in Des Arc, every stroll downtown was torture for him. Had Chief Bud Mansell found out? Had his boss? And who would knock on his door tonight?

Two years ago, when he realized how easily the black cloud over hime could envelop his growing children he went to give himself up. Halfway to Nashville, Tenn., he turned back.

Eighteen months ago he confessed to his wife. Together they prayed and took counsel from the Bible. And then Pewt went to prison.

Back in Des Arc, police chief Bud Mansell drew up a petition and got everyone to sign it. The Baptist minister wrote to Tennessee Gov. Frank G. Clement. Somebody else called Gov. Francis Cherry of Arkansas.

With 1600 signatures on a petition, municipal testimonials and top-level directives before it, the Tennessee Board of Paroles took a further look into the 12-year-old case of the People vs. Reavis Clinton Olive. The Board's recommendation: full pardon.

And so, 19 days later, with a hot Arkansas sun forcing him to wipe his eyes, Pewt Olive came home to Des Arc—and the neighbors who helped free him from his conscience-stricken terror.

THE ROAD TO FREEDOM for Pewt Olive (center) was paved by Rev. L. C. Felts (left), Baptist pastor, and Des Arc police chief Millard Mansell. Some 1600 neighbors helped, too.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

COMING 'HOME'—Perhaps its just coincidence but we have happened upon several persons recently who like Escanaba—parking meters and all.

Herb Holderman, former Escanaban, who was in charge of the Chicago & North Western railroad tie yard here for many years before moving to Elmhurst, Ill., was here the other day on a business trip. His new job keeps him traveling about three weeks out of every four.

"The town hasn't changed much," said Herb, "except for the parking meters. Personally, I like them. Now I can find a parking space downtown."

He and Mrs. Holderman are looking forward to returning to Escanaba in about three years.

"I used to think I would like to retire to the Ozark hills," he continued. "But after being away from the bay and Escanaba for awhile we all want to come back here."

* * *

FOR THE REUNION—Escanaba High School graduates have been sponsoring a series of class reunions this year, luring many former Escanaba residents back to the home town—if only for a short time.

Dr. Harvey Jorgenson came the longest distance to Escanaba for tre reunion of the Class of 1923 held last Friday night. He flew here from Miami, Fla., for the event.

Dr. Jorgenson practiced in Marinette, Wis., for a number of years before moving to Florida. An ardent boatman, he was commodore of the M & M Yacht Club and is well known among yachtsmen in Escanaba.

* * *

THE BETTER LEAGUE—Although he describes himself as a "comparative newcomer" to Escanaba, Dr. George Hagen as president of the Escanaba Jaycees Little League, is enthusiastic about the town.

Dr. Hagen's home town is Middletown, O., a community that has received national publicity in newspapers, magazines and the movies as the typical American smalltown.

According to the publicists who discovered Middletown, it has everything—except the well organized Little League baseball program to be found in Escanaba.

"You could say that Middletown is an ideal place, but so far as baseball is concerned it is far under what we have here in Escanaba," Dr. Hagen told the Escanaba Rotary Club.

He and Lawrence Erickson and the boys who comprise the Rotary Club-sponsored Rotary team in Little League were guests of Rotary Monday and presented the program.

LAURA WINSTON — Escanaba is not forgotten by older folks who made their home here years ago and now live half way across the continent.

In the mail the other day is a note to prove the point. The note is from Grace J. Goss of Lomita, Calif., who writes:

"An article appeared in your paper of the H. Royale 45th aniversary and it was stated that Laura Winston lived in Santa Monica. Laura Winston Van Dyke passed away nearly a year ago in Beverly Hills."

Perhaps the name Laura Winston will mean little to this younger generation, but to those who recall the old days of the legitimate theater and the stock companies that toured the nation, Laura Winston is a name that will live forever.

The Laura Winston Stock Company played in Escanaba many times in that earlier day, bringing some of the finest entertainment of the theater to the people of this and other smalltowns of the Middle West.

And the "H. Royale" was also of the theater. He and his wife recently celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary in a town in Illinois.

THE LOYAL ONES — If you had a choice, girls, would you prefer to be a beauty queen finalist on television in Detroit on the Fourth of July—or in your home-grown Northern Michigan?

Miss Joan DeShambo of Escanaba emphatically replied that she would have preferred to be "up here!"

One of six finalists for the Michigan Miss Aviation title, Joan spent the holiday weekend in Detroit being entertained at dinners and luncheons and appearing on television. But if she had been "home" there was a more exciting holiday trip to Mackinac Island to be enjoyed.

Everyone was kind, television held no terrors for her, and the whole affair would have been most enjoyable—if it had been held in Northern Michigan.

Army Experts Fight Flies With Secret Weapon-Fly Swatters!

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

ARMY CHEMICAL CENTER, Edgewood, Md. (NEA)—If you really want to wage a scientific fight against the housefly this summer, take a tip from the experts.

The experts are the scientists, lab workers and clerks in the Chemical Corps' insecticide laboratories here who know as much as anybody in the world about fiendish methods for the mass destruction of bugs.

But what do they use for the flies which buzz around them?

Why, fly swatters and fly paper, of course.

The Chemical Corps' insect fighters frankly admit that their long battle against the fly has reached the stage where it's time to invoke the famed Churchillian rallying cry about fighting 'em on the beaches, landing ground, fields and streets.

Thanks to the amazing adaptable constitution of the housefly and the willingness of mosquitoes to change their age-old habits of eating and sleep, DDT is obsolete. And the Chemical Corps hasn't come up with anything to cope satisfactorily with the modernized insect enemy.

* * *

Several years ago it was discovered that new strains of flies were developing which actually sort of liked DDT. Today there are flies which live and grow fat on a strictly DDT diet, according to the Department of Agriculture.

The mosquito, it has been discovered recently, has taken a different tack against DDT. He has changed his habits. It used to be that mosquitoes, after having had lunch on some tasty person, would fly to the nearest wall or resting place and take a small siesta. If this resting place happened to have DDT on it the mosquito was finished.

Our 1953 summer style mosquito does it differently,however. Somehow he has found a way to avoid alighting on anything covered with DDT for his post-lunch snooze. He lives to wake and dine again.

* * *

In the face of this new insect knowledge Dr. Leigh E. Chadwick, one of the Army's top fly experts, is working on a new approach to the problem, called "entrapment." He hopes it will come up with less of a fly-by-night solution than DDT.

The old idea was to take the DDT to the insect. Spread it around where he lived, ate, and layed. The entrapment concept would lure the insect to the poison.

By getting the insect to the poison there's a better chance of giving the little pest a fatal dose. As a result, the chances of strains developing which thrive on that particular poison are greatly reduced.

All kinds of entrapments and lures are being sought in this study. Among other things the scientists are trying to isolate the important ingredient in spoiling foods which attracts flies.

* * *

According to Dr. Chadwick the most fruitful field of the new research program is with a series of organic phosphates. The flies don't seem to be able to stomach it no matter how many samples they get.

The phosphate poisoning, Dr. Chadwick explains, hits the bugs inside and gives them a sort of fatal nervous breakdown. DDT does its damage to the exterior of insects.

The big problem with organic phosphates is what Dr. Chadwick calls it's "mammalian tovicity." In other words it's dangerous to humans. Or at least too dangerous for Army standards. There are some commercial organic phosphate insecticides on the market.

Despite the temporary bleak outlook on the insect front as of this summer, Dr. Chadwick is confident that the Army will come up with something to take the place of DDT before very long. He is betting on it being some organic phosphate with a minimized mammalian toxicity.

Shotgun Scatters Painter's Ashes On Hill At Bellingham

BELLINGHAM, Wash. (AP)—A zither twanged and guests stood around in Chinese array Tuesday while a shotgun banged at colored balloons containing the ashes of Francis Covell.

A national magazine wanted it done and the family had some ashes left over from its first attempt to keep a promise to the 71-year-old painter, who died May 9.

Before Covell died he made his son, Cecil R. Covell of Tacoma, Wash., promise that his ashes would be fired from a shotgun off Schome Hill, a bald nob 500 feet high right in the center of Bellingham.

"He said he didn't like all this foo-foo-rah of a funeral—he just wanted to have his ashes—shot off Schome Hill in a shotgun," the son said.

"Well," he continued, "we had a funeral. My sister—that Mrs. Florence Custer of Bellingham—tried to fulfill his shotgun wish and she fired off some of the ashes from Schome on June 16.

"Had a lot left over, though, and Life magazine heard about it somehow. They asked if they could be present when we finished the job.

"My sister—she runs an antique shop—thought there ought to be some costumes and all she had was some Chinese ones.

"Well, we dressed in those and my son Lee, who is 9 years old, brought along the zither from my sister's shop. He played it.

"We put the ashes in bags and tied them to two clusters of 11 balloons.

"Florence fired the shotgun. She wasn't trying to hit the balloons. Just the ashes. She did, too, and they scattered all over the hill. I guess the balloons are still going."

Jobs Around Home Are Enjoyable As Vacation Sport

HOW TO ENJOY your vacation by working around the house is no joke. It can be done. In fact most householders seem to get more real satisfaction out of the results of their handiwork in finishing off attic rooms, for instance, than out of their golf scores or a heavyweight bass—well, almost as much, let's say.

At any rate, when the family is growing and more rooms are needed and there's space in the attic and workers drive up in sports convertibles to give you estimates out of this world, it isn't difficult to decide how you are going to use some or all of your vacation time.

Finishing attic rooms is getting to be something of a national indoor sport. Around four million families bought or built two-bedroom houses since World War II. Some bankers frowned on these structures and called them birth-control housing because they certainly can't accommodate growing boys and girls in addition to parents.

But these houses got built and now the problem of enlarging them arises. Those with attics, planned originally for expansion, offer the easiest out. Lumber dealers, building supply houses, paint and hardware stores often are stocked with helpful pamphlets including instructions on how to use the various materials needed for such jobs.

* * *

ONE ATTRACTIVE and easy-to-install material is the new woodgrained gypsum wallboard. This is regular gypsum wallboard, ⅜ of an inch thick, predecorated to simulate knotty pine, bleached or dark walnut, bleached mahogany, fir plywood and other natural wood finishes. The color and texture of the wood are reproduced on the faces of the 4 by 8-feet panels by photographic and printing processes.

This woodgrained surfacing can be waxed occasionally to protect the finish. Or a deluxe finish can be attained by applying a coat of pure white shellac, suitably thinned, then a coat of wax for a dull finish. A coat of clear varnish, on the other hand, will afford a glossy finish. When the wallboard is treated in any of these ways it can be kept clean simply by wiping with a damp cloth.

* * *

THESE PANELS cost little more than ordinary gypsum wallboard and save both time and expense of decorating. No joint treatment is needed. The knotty pine panels have square edges which, when butted together, form fine line joints that look like part of the wood pattern. The walnut, mahogany and other panels have beveled edges to form "V" joints that likewise become part of the decoration.

The panels are applied with special enamel-headed nails colored to harmonize with the specific woodgrain finish. These nails should be driven with a raw-hide mallet or a padded or plastic-head hammer to avoid chipping the enamel or damaging the woodgrain surface.

Like any other wallboard, these panels call for level and true framework. Studs, joists or furring should be spaced 16 inches on centers. Nailing is started at the center of the panel, working outward and spacing nails 6 to 8 inches apart along the support—not closer than ⅜ of an inch from the edges of the board.

Woodgrained panels can be cut with a saw or scored with a sharp knife and snapped.

The American muskrat was imported into Great Britain for fur farms, but going wild, it did so much damage to river banks that further imports have been forbidden and efforts have been made to exterminate it.

Grants-In-Aid Higher In 1952

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON—(CQ)— Federal grants-in-aid to state and local governments in fiscal 1952 totaled $2,364,528,000—an increase of $83.6 million over fiscal 1951 grants, and $129.8 million more than fiscal 1950 grants payments. It was the sixth consecutive year that grants-in-aid increased.

These federal grants cover 48 programs involving social security, agriculture, public health, transportation and vocational education, and are extended to the 48 states, the District of Columbia and Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

The federal government paid out $80,962,000 in grants to Michigan in fiscal 1950. In fiscal 1951 Michigan's share of total grants-in-aid was $81,817,000, and in fiscal 1952 it amounted to $85,117,000.

These grants-in-aid do not include federal aid payments to individuals and groups within the states. Individual aid payments in fiscal 1952 amounted to $1,876,631,000—a sharp drop from the $2,569,138,249 paid out in fiscal 1951. Federal aid payments to individuals in Michigan in fiscal 1952 totaled $39,890,000. This brought the combined total of federal grants-in-aid and individual aid payments in Michigan to $125,007,000 in fiscal 1952.

Tax Take Higher, Too

U. S. tax collections and federal grants-in-aid to states represent to some extent the give and take of the taxpayer's dollar. What is paid out on a state-by-state basis to the federal government in taxes, the states receive back, in part, in the form of federal grants.

Both tax collections and grants-in-aid were larger in fiscal 1952 than in fiscal 1951. But the overall tax collection gain of 28.9 per cent outran the 2.5 per cent increase in grants.

U. S. internal revenue collections rose from $50,445,686,000 in fiscal 1951 to $65,009,586,000 in fiscal 1952. Taxes collected in Michigan increased from $4,156,022,000 in fiscal 1951 to $5,090,014,000 in fiscal 1952—a gain of 225 per cent.

CALL HOSPITAL EXPANSION MEET AT ST. FRANCIS

A special meeting with the medical staff of St. Francis Hospital will be held within a week to 10 days to discuss expansion of the hospital facilities here, Father John Weishar of Peoria, Ill., said today

Father Weishar, director of hospitals for the Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis, came here last night to attend a hospital meeting in Gladstone and today returned to Peoria. He will return for the meeting next week, he said today.

The Peoria priest said Jacques DeLaurier of the Office of Hospital Survey and Construction in Lansing will be invited to attend the meeting next week. Tentative date for the meeting is Tuesday night.

Seek Federal Grant

St. Francis hospital needs a 40 to 50 bed addition and a dietary department, Father Weishar said. In March, 1950, the hospital here, through Father Weishar, submitted an application to the Lansing office. Action was not taken on it however, because the federal appropriation for hospitals was cut from $175 million to $75 million in 1951, Father Weishar noted.

"All planning at present is built around the possibility of a federal grant. From the meeting at Gladstone last night, it seems evident no money will be available until the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1954, at the earliest," the hospital director said.

Statistical studies made by the office of Hospital Survey and Construction, Lansing, show that last year the percentage of occupancy of St. Francis hospital was 87%, but at times rose to 120%, Father Weishar noted.

Discuss Expansion

"It seems evident we need to expand St. Francis Hospital by 40 to 50 beds," he added. This is necessary to care for patients in the area and "to alleviate present overcrowded conditions," he said.

The purpose of the meeting with the medical staff will be to discuss in detail medical recommendations for a program of expansion for St. Francis Hospital.

A federal grant would finance 40 to 55 per cent of the project, and planning has been gauged with this thought in mind, the priest explained.

To Be Inspected

When asked about accreditation of St. Francis Hospital, Father Weishar said that inadequate facilities do not disqualify a hospital from being approved, but it does not receive full credit if it doesn't have all necessary facilities.

"Present facilities at St. Francis Hospital meet minimum standards of the Joint Commission for Hospital Accreditation," he said.

The Peoria priest also stated that in September or early October St. Francis Hospital here would be inspected by a representative of the accreditation commission.

The whole program of medical and nursing care rendered in a hospital is surveyed during accreditation inspections, Father Weishar said.

Big Construction Boom Recorded In First Half Of '53

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first half of 1953 saw the biggest construction boom in U. S. history—16 billion dollars worth.

The Commerce and Labor Departments so reported Monday, saying that even after allowing for higher costs, the building pace beat that of any previous period, including World War II.

Private building amounted to $10,900,000,000, including 739 million in commercial construction, up 43 per cent over the first half of 1952, and $5,400,000,000 in residential building, up 9 per cent.

The remaining $5,100,000,000 was accounted for by public or governmentally financed construction, including a record highway spending program and heavy outlays for atomic plants and other industrial facilities.

Report Outbreak Of Swimmers' Itch

LANSING (AP)—The State Water Resources Commission reporting unexpected outbreaks of swimmer's itch in southern Michigan lakes, recommended that squirmy cottage owners scratch and forget for a few more days.

Milton P. Adams, commission secretary, said the itch would be gone in southern Michigan lakes by about July 10.

Adams said the itch, common to many large northern Michigan lakes in the past decade, was showing up in a considerable number of lower lakes this year and producing complaints.

The moon turns on its axis in the same period as that in which it revolves around the earth, so that it always keeps the same face toward us.

Odyssey Of Martinez Has A Happy Ending

By EUGENE LEVIN

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the odyssey of Juan Martinez,

Who started out for Puerto Rico and landed in Newfoundland,

Who repeated his name three times and got three martinis,

And who is finally on his way back home with a good-natured view of his adventures (or misadventures).

Martinez, a one-legged man of 64, started his wanderings Sunday when he mistakenly boarded a Pan American World Airways plane bound for Germany from Idlewild Airport.

He had been scheduled to depart at the same hour on a Pan American flight for San Juan. Airline officials did not notice that he was getting on the wrong plane.

The big airliner winged its way east on the 4½-hour-hop to Gander, Nfld., as Martinez settled into his seat.

Soon a stewardess came along and asked:

"Manhattan or martini?"

The Puerto Rican, who speaks only Spanish, thought she was checking his name; so he replied:

"Martinez."

He was handed a dry martini. Twice more he was asked the same question, gave the same reply, and received the same refreshment.

Discovered Mistake

When the plane landed at Gander, Martinez promptly noticed that he was in a cooler clime than San Juan.

He made inquiries, and the mistake was uncovered.

Airline officials put him up overnight at Gander, and sent him back to New York on the first available flight. He returned here Monday.

Pan American sent him into Manhattan from Idlewild to spend the day at a hotel, but he was afraid he would be forgotten and he asked to return to Idlewild. The airline agreed.

Treated To Dinner

He sat in a wheelchair at the airport and chatted with other Puerto Ricans. Pan American, which paid the bill for his unexpected wanderings, treated him to dinner.

The airline also notified relatives in Puerto Rico that he was coming, but Martinez said he was sure they were not concerned by the delay. He said:

"After all, they didn't know when I was coming."

Then, just before last midnight, he was put aboard a nonstop flight to San Juan.

Martinez, who has two sons in the Army in Korea, quipped as he boarded the plane:

"This time they'll probably send me to Korea."

Excess Profits Bill Unfrozen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) predicted after a conference with President Eisenhower today that the House Ways and Means Committee will approve a bill Wednesday to extend the excess profits tax for six months.

Martin made the prediction to newsmen after he and other GOP congressional leaders had reviewed the legislative program at a 15-minute White House session.

The excess profits measure has been blockaded in the ways and means committee for weeks because of the refusal of Chairman Reed (R-NY) to call a meeting of the group.

Reed now has set a session of the committee for Wednesday morning, however, and Martin said he believes there are enough votes in the group to send the measure to the House floor.

Reed agreed to a meeting only after House leaders went over his head to the rules committee, which voted to bypass the ways and means group and call the bill to the floor for debate.

That course was abandoned after Reed agreed to call a meeting of his committee to consider other matters. Martin said today that while the excess profits measure is not on the agenda for Wednesday, he looks for Rep. Simpson (R-Pa.) to bring up the bill.

MARQUETTE — No trace was found up to this Monday morning of the body of Harold M. Beaudry, 35-year-old World War II veteran, who was drowned in Lake Superior early Saturday evening, after a canoe in which he and a friend were riding overturned.

Beaudry, who resided at 419 West Bluff Street, had been employed as office manager for James Pickands & Company here for several years, and prior to that was employed by the First National Bank & Trust Company.

Investigating officers said Beaudry was drowned after a canoe in which he and Ray C. (Bud) Bowers, 24, of 811 Pine street, were riding was carried out of the bay ta Island Beach, northwest of Presque Isle, by the strong offshore (southwest) wind.

Bowers was found by Coast Guardsmen from the Marquette station shortly before dark Saturday, just as they were about to abandon the search for the night.

MARQUETTE — Funeral services for Joseph John Fisher, 56, of 528 Baraga Avenue, who was killed in an accident at the Skerbeck's Shows carnival in Marquette Township Friday night were held Tuesday morning.

Law enforcement officers who conducted the investigation said Mr. Fisher suffered a fractured neck and died almost instantly when he was thrown out of a thrill ride at about 10:45 p. m., Friday. The carnival was set up off Highway US-41, west of Marquette.

MACKINAC ISLAND—The 65-foot diesel-powered vessel "Detroit," aboard which many thousands of Detroiters have traveled to Belle Isle and which later saw service in Lake Superior on an Isle Royale run, has been acquired by Arnold Transit Company and is being fitted out for service between Mackinac Island, St. Ignace, and Mackinaw City.

O. W. Lang, general manager of Arnold Transit Co., said the Detroit will go into the island service immediately. She will be capable of carrying a total of 160 passengers and will be under command of Capt. LeRoy Allers.

HURLEY—Underground workers stayed away from their jobs at the Cary mine in Hurley today because of alleged "unsafe" conditions in the shaft.

The decision to stay away from work was made at a meeting attend by over 300 union members at the Memorial Building in Hurley this morning.

Peter Bensoni, Gile, president of the Cary local of the United Steelworkers of America, CIO, said the underground employes contend that the "shaft is not fit to travel in and the company has not improved certain hoisting practices."

IRONWOOD—Ironwood police are investigating a series of two blasts that occurred Monday at 11:15 in the basement of LaMarche's Paint Store, 136 W. Aurora St.

The blasts were believed to have been caused by exploding fireworks possibly found and exploded from leftover materials from the July 4 fireworks display in Ironwood.

Ironwood firemen answered the call at the store and confiscated the materials. No fire resulted from the blasts which were described by observers as "very loud."

IRONWOOD—The famous WASWA-GON Dance team, of the Lac du Flambeau Indian Reservation, has agreed to take part in the Range "Old Country Days" parade on Saturday, July 25th and to put on an exhibition of Indian war dances at the All-Nations Festival to be presented that evening at the Luther L. Wright High School athletic field.

Stock Market Has Mixed Pattern In Quiet Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—Several key areas of the stock market turned down today and threw the list into a mixed pattern.

Changes either way went to around a point with the bulk of gains and losses in minor fractions.

Trading remained quiet, as it has been for more than a week, with the pace right around Monday's 820,000 shares.

Railroads were lower for the most part, and they were joined by the oils and rubbers on the downside.

On the steady to higher side were steels, motors, coppers, air lines, and motion pictures. Others were mixed. Lower stocks included Southern Railway, Santa Fe, Consolidated Natural Gas, Goodyear, American Smelting, Standard Oil NJ, Sinclair Oil, and General Electric.

Due to wobbling of the earth on its axis, some stars that were visible to ancients of southern Europe cannot be seen from that part of the earth today.

'MISS UNIVERSE' CONTESTANTS — Fairest of the foreign fair, six hopefuls arrive in New York en route to Long Beach, Calif., and the "Miss Universe" contest. Gala Celebration Marks Holiday At Bark River

BARK RIVER — The Bark River Lions Club and Volunteer Firemen gave the cimmunity a gala Fourth of July celebration. The day was full of activities for old and young which won words of praise from residents and visitors alike.

The parade formed at the parking grounds of Salem Lutheran Church at 10 a. m., and started promptly at 10:30 a. m. Leading the line of march was the Bark River-Harris High School Band with the Majorettes in their snappy new uniforms and the director, Leonard Nault, who trained the band in music and in marching.

Colorful floats which showed careful planning and considerable work were a major part of the parade.

The High School Band played after the parade in the square in front of the Bark River State Bank and also presented excellent marching and drilling. A similar program was given before the Bark River-Bears ball game in the afternoon.

Refreshment stands and the evening supper were well patronized. A fireworks display closed the program.

Parade awards were:

Commercial Floats—1st Johnson's Garage; 2nd A. E. Anderson (Gamble Store)

Non-commercial—1st, National Farmers Union; 2nd, Luther League, Salem Lutheran Church.

Professionally decorated floats—1st, Bark River Culvert & Equipment; 2nd, Teals Inc.

Comical — 1st, Jeep—Herbert Vandermissen; 2nd, Andy's Bar

Bicycle Parade—1st, Miniature Tractor and Hay Loader, Roger Quist children; 2nd, Indian, Jack Brittan.

Doll Buggy — 1st, Red Cross, Donna and Karen VanEnkevort.

Honorable Mention—1st. Bark River-Harris High School Band; 2nd, Krause's Lumber Co.; 3rd, Texico Oil Co.; 4th, C. Y. O.

Woman Injured In Traffic Accident

Mary Lekun, 41, of Creighton Mines, Ontario, Can., suffered a minor cut on her foot in an auto collision just east of Escanaba Monday afternoon at 2:15 on a US-2-41 made slippery by rain, Michigan State Police said.

The collision was between autos driven by John Lekun, 43, and Delbert Nelson Jr. of Gladstone.

Lekun came up fast behind Nelson during the rain, troopers said. The Canadian applied his brakes but slid into tre rear of Nelson's car.

There was extensive damage to the front end of Lekun's car, state police said, and damage to the rear of Nelson's car was estimated at $75.

New Storm Sewer . . . Project Underway

City crews Monday began installation of new storm sewer in the north side of Escanaba, City Engineer Loren Jenkins said today.

The sewer line will extend from Washington Ave., to 22nd St., and south on 22nd St., to N. 12th Ave., Jenkins stated.

Petitions have been received for paving of N. 15th Ave., and storm sewers must be laid in the area before paving can be started, he pointed out.

The city also plans to lay new storm sewers this year in the area where the new Catholic Central High School is to be built.

Committee Kills Resolution For Impeaching Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee today killed a resolution of impeachment against Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

It agreed to pigeon-hole it.

The resolution was introduced two weeks ago by Rep. Wheeler (D-Ga.) after Douglas had granted a stay of execution for atomic spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg.

Wheeler accused the justice of "high crimes and misdemeanors."

Lansing Council Has Legal Problem

LANSING (AP)—The Lansing city council discovered Monday night that costs have gone up a little bit since 1909.

The council was all set to approve a bill of $2,000 for auditing the city books when an alert alderman discovered that a statue passed in 1909 set a ceiling of $150 for auditing costs in any one year.

The alderman decided they would either have to change the 1909 statute or find an illegal way to pay the legal bill.

New Research Center Thrown Open To Heart And Cancer Sufferers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government threw open the doors today to a new kind of medical research center devoted to conquering such killers as cancer and heart disease.

Secretary of Wefare Robby formally dedicated the 64 million dollar Clinical Center of the National Institute of Health with these words:

"This center is . . . new evidence that the American government continues to be responsible to the people and to the needs of the people."

Capacity of 500

The 14-story structure, five years in the building, is in the rolling countryside near Bethesda, Md., a Washington suburb. Congress provided funds for construction, and will vote money for operating costs.

The center's first patients, eight women suffering from cancer, will be admitted Monday—the first of a capacity of 500 non-payng patients.

"They will be the best-studied patients in the world," said Dr. W. Henry Sebrell of Petersburg, Va., head of the National Institutes of Health, an agency of the Public Health Service.

"This is not a hospital. You don't get in just by being sick. You don't get in for medical care. You get in only for research."

He described the center as a revolutionary stride in medical research where "for the first time in history we will be able to integrate laboratory and clinical research so that there can be a complete study of the chronic diseases that kill men."

Seven Main Fields

Research at the center will touch seven major fields: cancer, heart disease, arthritis, mental ailments, epilepsy, rheumatic fever and dental diseases.

"We are not interested in rare and exotic diseases," Sebrell said, "and we are not concerned, essentially, with incurables."

Several things about the new clinical center are unusual. All the patients will be vounteers, although one does not get in merely by asking to.

"Only persons recommended by physicians, hospitals or medical schools will be admitted," said Dr. John W. Trautman of Lake Benton, Minn., director of the center. "Nearly all will come to fulfill a special requirement."

Looks Like Hotel

In advance of the dedication, reporters taken on a tour of the center saw a magnificent air-conditioned building divided roughly into three sections: rooms for patients, service areas and laboratories.

The patients' quarters look like rooms of a fashionable hotel; each has a private bathroom. The furniture is blonde and modern.

"We want this building to look as little like a hospital as possible," Sebrell said.

Indicative of the emphasis on research is the division of space. Two-thirds of the building is devoted to laboratories and one third to patients. Eventually, a staff of 2,500 is planned.

MSC Dean Retires

EAST LANSING (AP)—Retirement became official today for Dean Ernest L. Anthony, longtime head of the Michigan State College school of agriculture.

New head of the school of agriculture is Dr. Clifford M. Hardin, former director of the MSC agricultural experiment station.

Anthony has been in charge of the teaching, research and extension programs in agriculture at Michigan State for the past 20 years.

Williams Says Bingo Is "Local Problem"

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams refused Monday to call a statewide conference of law enforcement officials on bingo, asserting, "Bingo is and has been a local problem and should remain so."

The governor said the state has had "a clear and long standing policy" of fighting organized gambling, slot machines and gambling syndicates.

But, he said, there has been a long understanding that bingo is a local enforcement problem "into which the state will not intrude unless it becomes part of an organized racket with which local authorities are unable to cope."

The statewide conference first was requested by Detroit Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard and later seconded by the Michigan Police Chiefs Association because of unequal enforcement of gambling laws in the state.

Williams said the state policy has been followed not only by his administration but by previous governors.

"It was recommended, and followed, by the police commissioner of Detroit when he was commissioner of state police," Williams said.

"Under this policy harassment of honest citizens has been avoided but organized gambling has virtually been wiped out."

Formulation and enforcement of a statewide policy, Williams said, would "usurp the functions of local authorities and force everybody into a mold of undue severity."

The Iron Curtain Is Real

IT'S BARBED WIRE and mines, like this scene, shot on the Austro-Hungarian border. Frontiers are under powerful floodlights at night.

IT'S PILED STONES across a street. This barrier was built in Berlin by Soviet-directed East Germans to bar traffic. The sign carries the standard Red fiction: "Beginning of the Democratic Section of Berlin."

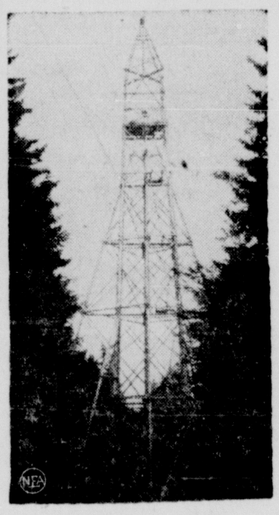

IT'S BROKEN RAILS, like these in Germany. Except for especially agreed-upon lines, railroad tracks do not penetrate the Iron Curtain. Sometimes the Communists rip up only a fragment of track. At other times they abandon great stretches, usually taking the tracks away.

To many people, the Iron Curtain is merely Sir Winston Churchill's apt description of a non-existent wall between Soviet Russia, its satellites and the rest of the world. But the Iron Curtain does actually exist. It is a physical barrier, as well as a spiritual one, screening Communist states from the outside world. It is a myriad of barriers, ditches, human guards, vicious dogs, barbed wire, watchtowers, plowed fields, ripped-up railroad tracks and other things. These pictures, some of which are not perfect quality because they were taken stealthily under adverse conditions, show some of the forms of the Iron Curtain. There are three protective zones along Iron Curtain borders. The actual border zone, where some of these pictures were taken, is about a mile deep. It is a no man's land, cleared of cover and equipped with physical obstacles, inhabited by none except patrols of the Frontier Troop Administration. Behind it is an intermediate area, 10 miles deep, which is being completely depopulated. Behind that is the rear security area.

IT'S A BUOY, marking the end of the American Sector of Berlin. Where small boat sails on the Havel River is the Soviet-controlled sector.

IT'S A WATCHTOWER. This one, on the German-Czechoslovakian border is about 100 feet high and overlooks a long section of the Curtain.

Department Store Has Its Troubles

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The department store—that downtown tradition of American cities—has been having its troubles. America has been changing its way of life and its spending habits. And the big department store has been slipping in getting its share of the elusive consumer's dollar.

There are a lot more of these dollars around now than at the end of World War II. But after the consumer pays his much higher taxes and his rent, he has been giving a larger share of his remaining dollars to the food store, auto dealer, gasoline station and fuel dealer than to the department store.

Rush To Suburbs

The big rush to live in the suburbs also has hurt the department store. Traffic congestion in most cities has made downtown shopping trips less appealing.

Within its own merchandising field, however, the department store hasn't done so bad, in comparison with stores with which it really competes. The national Industrial Conference Board offers some figures to prove this thesis.

In competition for the retail sales dollar in all fields —food, autos, beverages, lumberyards, gasoline, fuel and so on, as well as the department and similar stores —department stores show up poorly.

In 1945 they were getting 8.3 per cent of that dollar. In the first quarter of this year department store business was at a new low of only 6 per cent.

Sales Doubled

Since 1945 total retail sales have more than doubled. And while the department store share was going down, retailers who don't compete with these stores were taking more: 63.5 per cent in 1945, and 70.7 per cent in the first quarter of this year.

Total sales in these competitive markets came to 28½ billion dollars in 1945. The department stores got 6½ billion dollars of that, or 22.8 per cent. In the first three months of this year, the total competitive trade was at an annual rate of 48 3/4 billion dollars, with department stores sales estimated at an annual rate of 10 billion dollars, or 20.6 per cent.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

How To Get The Best Of Bargain At A Country Antique Auction

By VIVIAN BROWN

You can spend a delightful vacation at summer auctions. And don't let your husband talk you out of it. Better still, don't let him in on it until you arrive at the vacation resort. When he's planning the vacation (or thinks he is) take a good look at the road map. Make sure that the road he chooses is on the "antique circuit." And invariably you'll find you're on the country auction beam.

When you team up with the going-going-gone set, you'd better learn what gives. Neophytes can be gypped. Some of them pay more for a used item than it is worth new in the store today. It will take lots of visits to auctions, antique shops and junk shops to recognize old things. But in the meantime you can have fun if you remember this: Only buy what you can use, what is cheap at the price you must pay and is sturdy enough to hold up for resale eventually if you decide to part with it. Here are some general tips to remember:

1. Unless you are an expert, never buy anything on which you expect to make a profit.

2. If an auctioneer describes an article as being "of the period" and he is asking "antique prices" don't bid.

3. In spite of all you hear about knotty pine, old pine pieces have few knots in them.

4. Unless you have an excellent eye, never buy anything you haven't inspected closely before the sale.

5. Old chairs should look it. Slat back and ladder back chairs should be worn where the chairs have rubbed against the walls for years.

6. Pressed glass is being reproduced and even the popular daisy-and-button pattern is hard to distinguish from old glass.

7. Old Dresden and Staffordshire is being faked so that only an expert can tell the difference.

8. China stamped with a country origin is not antique. The marking of imports was begun only a little more than a half-century ago.

9. Backboards of 18th century chests should not have modern-type circular saw kerf marks.

10. Old lacy Sandwich cup plates, tiny as they are, have a resounding ring when tapped with the finger.

You can corral interesting pieces which are not antique but will give you great pleasure and take your home out of the ordinary class.

Several of my most cherished pieces were very inexpensive. An old fashioned spool and cotton case bought for $10 (the kind that graced trimming store counters) was refinished to reveal a lovely walnut inlay and shiny greenish gold brass. It is a perfect complement to the low French love seat it serves as an end table. Its 6 shallow drawers are perfect for housing living room paraphernalia.

Two interesting walnut washstands with red marble tops serve as bureaus in a dainty guest room which was furnished in its entirety for $85 less mattress and spring. That included a blanket roll bed, serpentine - front bed table, rose rocker, Victorian chair, a small collection of cranberry glass.

You will not want to keep all that you buy, perhaps, and interesting things may always be sold. My prize find was a rare Sandwich glass candlestick with a base in the figure of a woman. It should belong to someone who wants a pair. But in the meantime it serves us well indeed, and it is a joy to look at.

Purse-Snatcher Gets Haul Of $24,600

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A retired telephone operator told police that a purse snatcher robbed her of her handbag containing life savings of $24,600 Thursday night.

Mrs. Mary Anna Handler, 54, said a tall, dark, curly-haired young man grabbed the purse on a street corner and escaped in a car with three other youths.

Sales Volume Goes Up In Postwar Boom

BUSINESS MIRROR
By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The postwar boom has stimulated sales volume to the point where more than 100 companies now do better than a million-dollar-a-day business.

A list of the 100 largest corporations in point of sales and revenues in 1952 is compiled today by the National City Bank of New York. The list ranges rom Standard Brands' 383 million dollar sales total to General Motors' 7½ billion, a sum the auto company says it will top this year.

Billion Borrowed

The 100 companies—in the fields of manufacturing, trade, transportation and public utilities—took in a total of 102 billion dollars of your money last year.

But they paid it all out again one way or another—and borrowed 2½ billion dollars more. Their current and long-term indebtedness went up by that amount, the bank says, for replacements, improvements and expansion.

Where else did that 102 billion dollars go? About 57½ billion dollars, or 56 per cent of it, went to other companies who supplied the 100 biggest with goods and services. To their own employes the 100 paid nearly 24 billion dollars in wages and salaries, and fringe benefits, or 24 per cent of the total. More than 10½ billion dollars, or around 10½ per cent, went to federal, state, local and foreign tax collectors. Reserves for depreciation took three billion dollars, or 3 per cent, and interest payments one half billion dollars.

This left the 100 with total net income of more than 5½ billion dollars, or 5.5 per cent of gross revenues. They reinvested almost 2½ billion dollars in their businesses and passed out nearly 3¼ billion dollars in dividends to stockholders.

Taxes Passed Along

The 10½ billion dollar tax figure doesn't tell all the story, the bank says, because it's hard to estimate how much additional the companies collected and passed along —sales taxes, and excise taxes and the like.

"These countless business taxes levied all along the line of production and distribution are a major element in the prevailing high prices of goods and services, though one whose full effect it is impossible to measure," the bank says. "They are an important factor in both the individual's high cost of living and the corporation's high cost of living."

The 100 biggest report total assets of almost 87 billion dollars. This averages a capital investment of about $15,000 for each of the 5,860,000 persons they employ among them.

TAX NOTICE

Escanaba city taxes for the year 1953 are due and payable at the city treasurer's office on July 10, 1953.

Penalty of 4% on all taxes unpaid after Sept. 15, 1953. Tax rate is $15.69 per $1000. valuation.

Ralph Finleys Are Observing Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Finley of 408 S. 8th St., both members of prominently known early-day Escanaba families, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Wednesday, July 8.

The observance of the day will open with a High Mass of Thanksgiving at 9 a. m. at St. Patrick's Church. A family dinner at the Dells Supper Club will be followed by a reception from 3 to 6 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Finley were married July 8, 1903 at St. Joseph's Church in Escanaba. Mrs. Finley, the former May Fish, is a lifelong resident of the community. Mr. Finley, a retired Chicago & North Western Railway conductor, has resided here since 1880.

The family group includes two daughters and one son, Mrs. Norman Dobson, the former Geraldine Finley, of Marquette, Mrs. Alfred LaBranche, who was Marian Finley, and Robert Finley, Escanaba, nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Keep Grooming Articles Clean

By ALICIA HART

Teen-Agers, do you know that neatness in the bathroom can contribute enormously to beauty?

The wash cloth that's rinsed thoroughly and hung up to dry preferably where the sun can reach it, will be fresh and clean for the next use, helping to prevent your skin from breaking out. Towels hung neatly to dry after use, rather than thrown in a wad or flung on the bar, are less likely to develop bacteria that multiply in dampness.

Your toothbrush can't give you good service unless you let it drain dry in the air after every use. Be sure to rinse out accumulated tooth paste or powder.

If you own two toothbrushes, use alternately, one should always be dry for you. Brushes stood in a glass or hung up will last longer than those put into slots which press on and bend the bristles.

Have you ever been repelled by a cake of soap that was smeared with grimy gray suds? Then be sure you aren't guilty of the unsanitary habit of failing to rinse off the soap when you're finished with it.

Hairs on the basin look messy, clog the drain and add to the skin-ruining hazard of bacteria. It's easy to pick them up with a bit of damp paper.

A bathroom glass beclouded with someone's toothpaste isn't only a horrid sight—it encourages the germs that help destroy mouth beauty. Don't ever be the one who soils the mirror and forgets to rinse it thoroughly afterward.

Jars of cream and boxes of powder left uncovered, as well as toothpaste left uncapped, become dusty and unfit for use. You'll enjoy your beauty preparations far more if you keep them neatly arranged and tightly covered at all times.

VOWS WERE SPOKEN by Miss Lorraine Elizabeth Guay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Guay of Escanaba, and Arthur F. Legault of Gladstone in a ceremony at St. Patrick's Church June 27. Gladstone will be the home of the newlyweds. (Portrait by Millie)

Miss Joyce Bolger, Stanley L. Beggs To Wed Tomorrow

The First Presbyterian Church of Escanaba will be the setting at 4 p. m. tomorrow of the wedding of Miss Joyce Elaine Bolger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Bolger, Lake Shore Drive, and Stanley Lyman Beggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Charles Beggs.

The vows will be spoken in a double ring candlelight ceremony before the Rev. James H. Bell, and the marriage service will be followed by a reception at the House of Ludington.

Miss Carol Jean Beggs, only sister of the bridegroom, will be maid of honor and Elinor Fisher of Chicago and Sharon Olsen of Escanaba will be the flower girls. Charles T. Beggs is serving as best man for his brother. Completing the bridal party will be Francis Papineau and John Miron who will usher.

Mr. and Mrs. Beggs are giving the rehearsal dinner this evening at the Dells Supper Club.

Practical Nurses Meeting Thursday

The Michigan Practical Nurses of Delta District will meet Thursday, July 9, at 7:30 p. m. at St. Francis Hospital. Guest speaker will be Miss Kathleen Scott RN, whose subject will be "Nursing Care and Spinal Cord Injuries." Delegates to the convention held at Marquette in June will give reports. Lunch will be served during the social hour.

Parboil eggplant slices, brush with melted butter or margarine, and broil. Serve with scalloped tomatoes (cooked on top of the range), and buttered snap beans for a summer vegetable plate.

Cooked Vegetable Salad With Curry Dressing

Ingredients: One 10-ounce package frozen mixed vegetables, ¼ cup olive oil, 1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon cider vinegar, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon curry powder, pepper, lettuce.

Method: Cook vegetables according to package directions; drain if necessary, reserving liquid for use in soup or gravy; cool vegetables. In mixing bowl put olive oil, vinegar, salt, sugar and curry powder. Add drained cooled vegetables and mix gently to coat with dressing; add more salt if desired and pepper to taste. Put in a flat container so that as much of the vegetable as possible is in contact with the dressing; chill for 2 hours. Serve on lettuce. Makes 3 servings. If salad is kept in refrigerator longer than 2 hours before serving and olive oil solidifies, allow to stand at room temperature for about 20 minutes before serving so it will liquidize.

Three Youthful Boaters Rescued

The efforts of three teen agers to take a row boat to Kipling yesterday noon aroused fears for their safety for a time.

However, they were taken in tow by a speed boat and brought to shore near Lindberg's in north Gladstone and then returned to town by city police.

In the trio were 'Skipper' Rivest, Girard Clark and a Dillabaugh boy. They took the boat out of the local harbor intending to return it to Kipling, one of the boys said.

A small boy whose name was not learned reported to police that the boys had lost the boat's oars and were drifting before a high wind and heavy sea off the north shore.

Several boat owners were notified and Jim Searles took his speedboat and accompanied by Bill Girard Jr., uncle of Girard Clark, hurried around the point, located the boat and escorted it to shore.

DOUBLED BY 1970

By 1970, enrollments at Michigan's public colleges and universities are expected to be more than double current enrollments, according to the Council of State College Presidents. And to provide adequate facilities for this increased number of students, our colleges will need new classroom and laboratory buildings costing $175,000,000—or ten million dollars every year between now and then.

Kathryn Ross Is Bride Saturday Of Kenneth R. DeMars

Miss Kathryn Elaine Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ross, 404 Delta ave., Gladstone, became the bride of Kenneth Roger DeMars, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard DeMars, 1117 3rd ave., North, Escanaba, at a 9 a. m., nuptial mass, Saturday July 4, at All Saints Catholic church with Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette-celebrant of the mass.

Mixed bouquets of cut flowers decorated the altars. The music was furnished by the student choir with Mary Jo Bolger, organist and accompanist.

A pink nylon dress and pink picture has with white accessories was worn by the bride for her wedding. Rubrum lilies formed her corsage.

Mrs. Robert Belland, the matron of honor, wore an orchid nylon dress with watching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. Belland served the bridegroom as best man.

The bride's mother was attired in an Aqua crepe dress with matching accessories. Yellow carnations formed her cosage. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's parental home, with 35 guests attending.

The newlyweds have left on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination and after July 13 will be at home in Tucson, Ariz., where the bridegroom is stationed with the U. S. Air Force.

The bride attended school in Nahma and Gladstone. Before her marriage she was employed at Rockford, Ill., at the Cabinet Div., of Free Sewing Machine Co., The groom attended Escanaba Schools and is now in service.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Al Pomeroy, Omer Groleau, St. Jacques; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Gouin, Bill Bouin, Ensign; Mr. and Mrs. Al Bulk, Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. William Ross, Miss Betty Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reese, Rockford, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Anderson, Sault Ste. SUICIDE TROUBLE

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian government is determined to stamp out "sati"—the practice of widows committing suicide by hurling themselves on their dead husbands' funeral pyres.

Deputy Home Minister B. N. Datar told parliament "stringent instructions" had been issued to the state governments to control this once popular custom.

During the last three years, he added, only five incidents of "sati" were reported.

Sen. Taft Enters New York Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) is in New York Hospital for a checkup of a hip ailment which recently caused him to relinquish active GOP leadership in the Senate.

He entered the hospital Saturday night. His condition Sunday night was reported as good.

The hospital has not said how long Taft would be there.

But in Washington Saturday the senator's administrative assistant, I. Jack Martin, said Taft would not be able to attend this week's meetings of the Senate.

Buried In Ditch

NORTHVILLE (AP)—Anthony Leo, 25, of Dearborn, was killed and three men injured, one seriously, when the wall of a 21-foot deep sewer ditch they were working in collapsed at the Northville State Mental Hospital Thursday.

New President Voted Raise At Wayne U.

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. Clarence B. Hilberry, 51, is the new president of Detroit's municipally-operated Wayne University.

Acting president for a year, Dr. Hilberry was named president by the Board of Education Wednesday. The board also raised the salary of president from $18,000 to $20,000 and voted him "a residence on the campus with proper maintenance."

A native of LaGrange, O., Dr. Hilberry came to Wayne in 1930 as an instructor in the English department. He rose rapidly to chairmanship of the department and in 1945 was named dean of administration.

He succeeds Dr. David D. Henry, who resigned 13 months ago to become vice-chancellor at New York University.

J. Sterling Morton originated Arbor Day, in Nebraska, on April 10, 1872.

Some of the many fans who saw the King and His Court softball exhibition here last week felt that Pitcher Eddie Feigner had slipped somewhat since his last appearance at Memorial Field two years ago . . Its true that Feigner's stuff didn't work as well as it did in past performances, but he still puts on a remarkable show for softball fans.

Baseball fans at Bark River got a big kick when Pete Kutches, playing second base for the Barks, threw out Tom St. Germain, Escanaba outfielder, in St. Germain's first appearance at the plate in the Fourth of July exhibition game . . St. Germain, of course, coached Kutches in his high school days at St. Joe.

He whiffed 15 batters in throwing a no-hitter and allowed only one runner to reach first base while winning 5-0 . . He struck out 11 batters in a row in one stretch of the game . . And six Escanaba errors didn't help the cause of John Pieropon who fired a three-hitter at the Milwaukee team

One of the year's sports highlights takes place this weekend with the 11th district American Legion Junior baseball tournament slated for Gladstone . . The tournament, with a field of eight, opens Friday with four games at Escanaba and four at Gladstone . . Then the scene shifts to the Gladstone diamond for the tournament windup on Saturday and Sunday.

Tryout Camp To Open Tomorrow, 100 Young Players Hear Scouts

The second annual Cleveland Indian baseball school opened here today with 100 small fry ball players greeting Cleveland scouts Nap Ross and Mike Mychko at Memorial Field diamond.

Tomorrow the school and tryout camp will move to the Escanaba City Diamond where the Cleveland scouts will look over an expected 75 candidates from Escanaba and surrounding areas.

Young ball players interested in attending the school are invited to attend the morning and afternoon workouts at 10 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. Players are advised to bring their gloves and uniform to the workouts. Balls, bats and catchers' equipment will be available at the diamond.

The three-day school will wind up on Thursday when a group of the most promising players are selected by the scouts to perform in an all-star game starting at 6 p. m.

The program today was devoted to youngsters under 16 who play in the highly organized Escanaba baseball program which includes some 350 youngsters in recreation leagues, Little League and Little Bigger League.

Ross and Mychko, making their second appearance here with the Cleveland school, discussed and demonstrated fundamentals in batting, running and throwing.

"We want every boy 17 or over interested in playing baseball to attend the tryouts tomorrow and Thursday," Ross said today. "We'll give every boy as much attention as possible at the sessions and we hope to uncover some prospects for organized baseball."

Both Ross and Mychko are former professional baseball players who devote most of their scouting activities for Cleveland to the Detroit area, one of the hot-beds of sandlot baseball in the nation.

Hurlers Sparkle In Little Bigger League

Mound stars took the spotlight in Little Bigger League action last night as Kiwanis swamped Insurance Association 16-3 and AFL edged Delta Hardware 3-1.

Don Trotter fired his second no-hitter of the season at Delta, beating Bill Ranguette who fashioned a four-hitter for the losers.

Denis McGinn allowed only one hit from the Kiwanis hill, a blooper between third and short. He fanned 13 batsmen while walking six.

Big blow for the AFL last night was provided by Jim McDonald who homered with two mates on base.

Mike Goymerac led Kiwanis with four hits and John Dulek collected three off Bob Anderson and Dave Valentine who shared mound duties for Insurance. Both pitchers were wild and issued 14 walks. Billy Maves, who went hitless for the six innings played, led the Kiwanis scoring with four runs.

Saturday's scheduled Little Bigger League games have been cancelled because of the American Legion Junior tournament.

Tonight the Paper Co. plays Elks at Royce at 6 and on Wednesday AFL meets Elks in the game of the week at Royce at 6. AFL could climb firmly into the driver's seat with a victory Wednesday.

Porterfield Leading In Shutout Victories

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Porterfield, 28-year-old righthander of the Washington Senators, leads the majors in shutouts with five, Associated Press statistics showed today.

Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies and Sal Maglie of the New york Giants head he National League with three apiece.

Porterfield has shut out the Philadelphia Athletics twice, 8-0, and 3-0, the St. Louis Browns, 6-0, the Chicago White sox, 6-0 and the New York Yankees, 4-0. Overall he has won 10 games and dropped seven.

Billy Pierce and Virgil Trucks of Chicago and Walt Masterson of Washington are American League pitchers with three shutouts apiece.

Three Western Stars Make All-Conference

KALAMAZOO (AP)—All-America third baseman Dave Gottschalk and two other Western Michigan College baseball players are members of the 1953 Mid-American Conference all star team.

Picked along with Gottschalk were Ron Jackson, first base, and Al Nagel, outfielder.

Conference baseball coaches made the selections.

Packers Sign Teteak And Afflis, Veterans

GREEN BAY—The Green Bay Packer roster swelled to 51 today as Coach Gene Ronzani announced the signing of tw veterans, Deral Teteak and Dick Afflis.

Teteak, known as "The Little Bull", will be starting his second year in professional football. The ex-Wisconsin ace broke into the Packer lineup as a rookie last season and soon established himself as one of the top linebackers in the National Football League.

Considered small for his position, he stands 5' 10" and weighs 210 lbs. Deral repeatedly cut the bigger man down to his size. Extremely rugged and aggressive, his stout-hearted play immediately won the acclaim of the fans.

Opposing coaches also recognized his ability when they selected him to the National League All-Star squad for the 1953 Pro-Bowl game.

The 23-year old athlete, who hails from near by Oshkosh, Wisconsin, will team up with previously announced Bob Forte, Clayton Tonnemaker, Roger Zatkoff and Bill Forester to give Coach Ronzani the best linebacking combination since he took over the Pack helm.

Afflis will be starting his third season in post graduate football. Dick saw considerable duty as a guard in his rookie year, but last season was switched to offensive tackle. One of the best blockers on the team, he responded brilliantly to the switch.

Easily the strongest man on the team, the barrel-chested lineman is extremely agile for his size. He is 5' 10" and weighs 240 lbs.

Dick is 24 years old, married and the father of a baby girl. He has been continuing his education at the University of Nevada and plans to make his home in Reno during the offseason.

Lots Of Action Slated In Legion Tournament

FRIDAY
At Escanaba
Soo vs. Powers, 9 a. m.
Cubs vs. All Stars, 11:30
Losers of 9 a. m. games, 2 p. m.
Losers of 11:30 games, 5 p. m.
At Gladstone
Stephenson vs. Menominee, 9 a. m.
Gladstone vs. Carney, 11:30
Winners of 9 a. m. games, 2 p. m.
Winners of 11:30 games, 5 p. m.

Because of the heavy concentration of teams this year in the 11th district American Legion baseball tournament the tourney plat as drawn by manager Del Nelson is complicated to the casual observer.

First of all, the tournament is of the double elimination type which means that a team may lose two games before it is eliminated from competition.

The tournament will open Friday on two sites, Gladstone and Escanaba. Four games will be played at each site.

At Escanaba, Soo meets Powers at 9 and at Gladstone Stephenson playes Menominee at 9. The losers play at Escanaba at 2 p. m. and the winners play at Gladstone at 2 p. m.

Also, at Escanaba the Escanaba Cubs meet the Escanaba All Stars at 11:30 and at Gladstone the Gladstone team plays Carney at 11:30. The losers play at Escanaba at 5 and the winners meet at Gladstone at 5.

All Saturday and Sunday games will be staged at the Gladstone diamond. Four games are on tap for Saturday, at 9 and 11 a. m. and 2 and 5 p. m.

On Sunday the first game will be at 9 a. m. and the second at 2. If the team in the winners' bracket loses the 2 o'clock game another game will be necessary to determine the 11th district champion.

Lions Beat Kiwanis 9-3 In Little League

The Lions opened second half play in the Jaycee Little League last evening by trimming Kiwanis 9-3 with a 13-hit attack at the plate.

The Lions had their hitting togs on against Gene Seguin who went the distance for Kiwanis. Dave Andrews led his mates with three hits in four trips while 10-year-old Larry Chenier had a perfect day at bat with a home run and a double for Kiwanis.

St. Joe plays its first game in the second half tonight against Rotary, winner of the first half championship. It will be Cory Johnson against Mammy Bourdeau on the mound. Both pitchers tossed shutouts in their last starts and both are undefeated thus far this season.

Stengel Names All-Star Team

CHICAGO (AP)—The American League's 25-man squad for the All-Star baseball game at Cincinnati July 14 was announced Monday by Casey Stengel, manager of the defending pennant winning New York Yankees.

Stengel, who will pilot the American Leaguers because he led the Yanks to the last flag, named a six-man pitching squad. The hurlers are Mike Garcia, and Bob Lemon of Cleveland, Satchel Paige of St. Louis, Billy Pierce of Chicago, and Allie Reynolds and Johnny Sain of New York.

The game's starting lineup chosen by fans in the country-wide poll which ended Friday, also was announced. The eight starters are:

Stengel's other selections, which rounded out the 25-man squad, were:

Infielders: Ferris Fain, Chicago; Bill Hunter, St. Louis; George Kell, Boston; Harvey Kuenn, Detroit; Johnny Mize, New York; Phil Rizzuto, New York, Eddie Robinson, Philadelphia.

Outfielders: Larry Doby, Cleveland; Minnie Minoso, Chicago.

Catcher: Sam White, Boston.

Coaches named by Stengel were Lou Boudreau, Boston Red Sox manager, and the Yankees' Jim Turner.

Locke Leads For Medal Honors In British Open

CARSOUSTIE, Scotland (AP)—Bobby Locke of South Africa, defending champion, shot a 71 on Carnoustie's rain and wind-swept championship course today to make him top bidder for medalist honors in the British Open Golf Championship while Ben Hogan had a five-under-unofficial par 65 Monday on the easier Burnside course, and ended the qualifying round with 136. Hogan U. S. Open champion from Fort Worth, Tex., had a 70 Monday at Burnside, and had a qualifying score of 145 as his putting was erratic throughout.

Par for the longer and tougher championship course is officially 72. It is 7,200 yards while Burnside is only 6,389 yards.

The 100 low qualifying scorers will play 18 holes on the championship course both Wednesday and Thursday, with the low 50 continuing into the 36-hole final round on Friday.

The chubby South African was superlative on the greens, putted only 30 times and had six one-putt greens.

Hogan had five 5s on his first nine, but only one on the incoming nine.

After his round the unperturbed Hogan accused himself of simply using "bad judgment."

"I misjudged my approach shot on the third completely when I went through the green. There was no excuse for three-putting the fourth green," he said.

"Later on I occasionally used too much club. All in all I just played real bad."

Hogan said his best hole was the 18th when he finished with a stirring eagle three after sinking a 30-foot putt. Hogan's total of 145 will qualify him easily for the championship proper which starts Wednesday.

The cutoff point tonight should be in the neighborhood of 157.

Other scores turned in today included D. W. Fairfield, Chicago, 72-77—149, over the championship course.

Toledo Suffers Third Straight Loop Defeat

(By The Associated Press)

Indianapolis held a firm grip on the American Association lead Tuesday after beating the challenging Toledo Sox for the third time in a row Monday night in an 8-6 battle of home runs.

It was the Association's only game. A scheduled encounter between Columbus and Charleston was postponed because of rain. Other teams were not scheduled.

Toledo held a 5-2 lead going into the sixth inning but a pinch-homer by Lloyd Gearhart, good for three runs, sparked a five-run splurge in that frame

Burkemo Meets Torza For PGA Golf Crown

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—Walter Burkemo, the fair-haired boy of Detroit golfdom, and Felice Torza, the little "chiller" from St. Charles, Ill., met today in the 36-hole final of the 35th Professional Golfers Association tournament.

Burkemo, 34-year-old former infantry sergeant, was cheered on by a strictly partisan crowd of 7,000 in Monday's semi-final match. Wally rallied from three down at the 25th to beat the older and more experienced Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., on the 36th hole.

Torza won on the 39th hole from 45-year-old Jack Isaacs of Langley Field, Va., in the other semi-final.

Dubs Tee Slot

Isaacs overcame a four-hole deficit late in the afternoon round, but on the payoff hole—the third of a sudden death duel—he sprayed his tee shot, failed to recover and went out.

Of the two finalists, Burkemo is the more experienced. This is his third PGA tournament. He went to the finals in 1951, losing 9 and 8 to Sam Snead.

What's more, Burkemo is followed by a crowd of unashamed rooters whose behavior brought some sharp criticism from Harmon.

Fans Partisan

"I never saw such people," said the usually imperturbable new Yorker. "They would mumble when I addressed the ball. They cheered every shot Burkemo made and groaned when I'd make a fairly good one."

On the 36th hole Harman heard wild cheering after his second shot. "I thought I had gone on the green," he said. "Imagine how I felt when I got down there and found the cheers were for hitting the ball into the creek."

But all week they've been cheering skinny, 5-foot-Torza, too. And when someone pointed out that he'd be running into some "hot" golfers in the late rounds of his first PGA championship, Felice replied:

"They cool off when they play me."

Manager, Star Of Red Wings To Speak Here

Jack Adams, general manager of the Detroit Red Wing Hockey team and Ted Lindsay, captain of the Red Wings, will make a personal appearance before the Escanaba Paper Company at Groos, Mich. at noon, Monday, July 20, and before the Supervisors Club of the Escanaba Paper Co., at 7 p. m.

The program will include film highlights of the 1953 Detroit Red Wing Stanley Cup Playoff games, plus interesting sidelights of hockey by each of the two personalities present. A round-table discussion will be held following the presentation.

Appearance of the two at Escanaba is part of a state-wide tour designed to enlighten sport enthusiasts concerning the world's fastest game. The tour, sponsored by The Stroh Brewery Co., will continue through the month of July.

Ted Lindsay

U.P. Junior Golf Tourney Pairings Announced Tomorrow

With all late entries received, pairings for the first Upper Peninsula Junior Golf Tournament to be held at the Escanaba Golf Club Thursday morning and afternoon will be published in the Escanaba Daily Press tomorrow afternoon.

The top ranking high school golfers of Upper Michigan are entered in the 36-hole medal tournament sponsored by the Escanaba Daily Press and the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce.

They will tee off in threesomes for 18 holes Thursday morning and 18 Thursday afternoon to see which one can cop the first U. P. junior championship and the right to compete in the state tourney in Midland next Monday.

Tournament officials said this morning that it is likely the tournament committee will sponsor the appearance of at least the champion and the runnerup and possibly a full team of four, including the champion and runnerup, in the state tournament.

The local course will be open at 5 tomorrow afternoon for practice rounds. The entrants will be housed at the 4-H building at the U. P. state fairgrounds —that is, those who have requested accommodations here — and they will be served a buffet lunch at the Escanaba Golf clubhouse between rounds Thursday.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

STEPHENSON LOSES

Stephenson lost its first game in Waubung League action Sunday, falling to Carney by a 3-2 margin. The defeat moves the Escanaba Cubs up into a tie for first in the standings with Stephenson.

Yanks Had Big Slump In 1908; First In June, Last At Finish

NEW YORK —(NEA)—With 18 consecutive victories to the Yankees' credit, the talk was of winning streaks.

With the Bombers in a skid, the fans were intrigued by stories of defeat and misfortune.

The book says that the worst losing streak the New York Americans have perpetrated ran through 13 games, eight on the road, in 1913. That club finished seventh in a race won by the Athletics.

The most horrendous fate in the Bombers' 51-year history befell the 1908 team, first in June and last at the finish. Not only did it fall all the way into the cellar, but it set a club record with 103 defeats. The 1912 outfit lost 102.

The '08 Yankees slumped Clark Griffith out of his job as manager, which the now owner of the Washington club had held since New York came into the American League in '03.

In sharp contrast with the doleful experiences of the '08 Yankees was the spectacular race of the Tigers, who came out of the ruck and, with 90 and 63, nosed out the Indians by half a length.

* * *

The '08 Yankees were in front on June 2. They went on a long trip of 22 games, kept tumbling until on July 1 they found themselves seventh. On July 15, they were last beyond all redemption, with 50 defeats in 89 starts. During June, the Highlanders of 45 seasons ago won only 7 and lost 21.

When they struck bottom, Big Bill Devery and Frank Farrell decided to fire Griffith. The next spring he was back in the National League, running the Reds.

Big Bill was fond of Willie Keeler, who was finishing his career in the New York outfield, announced that Wee Willie would be the new pilot. A baseball writer tipped Keeler to his impending disaster and the intended victim hid in Philadelphia. Unable to locate Keeler, Devery and his partner, Sarrell, named Norman Elberfeld.

* * *

The American League record for consecutive defeats is 20, split among the '06 Red Sox and the Athletics of '16 and '43.

In the National League, the modern mark is 19 by the Bostons of '06 and Reds of '14. The luckless Boston fan of '06 had to put up with 19-game slumps by each of their representatives. The all-time record in the National League is 24, set by Cleveland, with 19 on the road, in '99.

The worst showing around Sew York was the 16-game skid of Brooklyn in '44, all on the road. Like the Yankees, the Giants never have dropped more than 13 straight.

They did it in '02 and again 42 years later.

HiWay Upsets Dells By 5-1

The HiWay Tavern upset the Dells in American League softball action last night, beating the top division team 5-1 behind three-hit pitching by Jack Tackman.

Ken Sturdy led the HiWay plate attack with a triple and a single. George Bartley and Don Paulin worked the mound for the Dells.

The Escanaba Merchants were trailing 2-1 to the last of the fifth before two hits and two errors produced three runs and a 4-2 victory over White Birch.

Louie Kositzke allowed four hits from the Merchants' mound and gave up only three walks.

Leo Lancour went the route for White Birch and was picked for eight hits. Ed Gauthier and Mickey Kuchenberg both hit twice for the winners, Gauthier pounding out one triple.

The youthful Neisner's team in the National League turned in its first win of the season by knocking off Westby's 9-8. It was Westby's first defeat in league play.

St. Louis Browns May Be Losing New Home

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sportswriter

The St. Louis Browns may be losing themselves right out of a new home.

Going into tonight's game with the pennant-aspiring Cleveland Indians, the hapless Browns are tied with the major league record for consecutive home defeats.

They dropped No. 9 Monday night, an 11-inning 8-7 struggle with the Detroit Tigers, broken up by Ray Boone's home run. Only the Boston Red Sox of 1906 lost that many games in a row at home.

May Chill Hopes

Such a record might well chill the enthusiasm of the several minor league cities which have been seeking the Brownie franchise. Owner Bill Veeck failed in March to move to Baltimore. He said Monday he didn't plan to revive the proposal at the American League meeting next week.

The Browns have slipped to within four percentage points of the American League cellar which most folks thought belonged to the Tigers.

Cleveland took over second place by defeating Chicago, 6-3, but lost half a game in its pursuit of the front-running New York Yankees, who won twice from Philadelphia, 10-5, and -3. The Indians now trail by 6½ and the White Sox by 7. Boston strengthened its hold on a first division berth, edging Washington, 2-1.

Dodgers Gain Ground

In the national league, he Brooklyn Dodgers smothered the Pittsburgh Pirates, 14-2, and gained ground on all of their close rivals. The second-place Milwaukee Braves and third-place St. Louis Cardinals were idle and fourth-place Philadelphia bowed, 6-0, to the two-hit major league debut of the Giants' Allan Worthington.

Chicago came from behind to nip Cincinnati, 7-6, despite Ted Kluszewski's 25th home un for the Redlegs.

Brooklyn leads Milwaukee by two games and the Cardinals by 3½.

Mickey Mantle, sidelined with a bad leg and ordered by doctors to rest at least another week, showed up as a pinch hitter for the Yankees and hit a grand slam home run in the first game. Allie Reynolds came to Vic Raschi's rescue in the second game and received credit for his seventh victory.

Al Rosen and Dale Mitchell led a 13-hit Cleveland attack. Mike Garcia gave up six hits in posting his 10th victory.

Equal Homer Record

Ivan Delock, back with the Red Sox after a stretch in the minors, scattered seven Washington hits in his first major league start of the season but it took a pinch-hit single in the ninth by Ted Lepcio to best southpaw Tommy Byrne, who struck out 10.

The Dodgers equaled the National League record for home runs in consecutive games when Carl Furillo, Gil Hodges and Billy Cox connected against the Pirates. The Dodgers have hit homers in 19 straight games.

Worthington, a former Alabama football player just in from the Giants' Minneapolis farm, pitched hitless ball until Smokey Burgess doubled with two out in the fifth. The Phillies' other hit came with two out in the ninth when Johnny Wyrostek doubled.

In beating Cincinnati, Ransom Jackson and Bill Serena contributed home runs to the 12-hit Chicago attack against Bud Podbielan.

Tigers Bid To Climb Out Of American Loop Cellar

CHICAGO (AP)—The slowly climbing Detroit Tigers have a chance to break their long, long lease on the American League basement tonight when they meet the high-flying White Sox.

The Bengals, long basement-bound, are currently a slim four percentage points behind the sliding St. Louis Browns—thanks to a timely 11th inning home run by Ray Boone Monday night.

Boone's four - bagger broke a deadlocked see-saw battle, earned the Tigers an 8-7 victory and sent the Browns reeling to their 19th straight defeat at home this season. That ties a major league record set by the Boston Red Sox back in 1906.

Can Get Out

If the second-place Cleveland Indians can beat St. Louis tonight and if young Billy Hoeft (6-5) beats the Sox, the Tigers will have turned over their nearly two-season lease on the league's cellar to a new tenant. The Bengals will have to beat Cuban Mike Fornieles (5-2) to do it.

Last night's victory, which also gave Detroit its first clean sweep of a series this season, got off to a see-saw start and stayed that way until Boone's homer, is eighth of the year, sailed into the left field bleachers.

The Tigers scored a pair of runs in the first inning on a walk to Boone and doubles by Walt Dropo and Steve Souchock. But the Tigers couldn't stand prosperity as the Browns came back with single runs in the first and second frames off starter Steve Gromek to tie it up.

Lund Smacks Homer

Don Lund drove a Bob Cain pitch into the stands to open the fifth inning sending Detroit ahead again. The Tigers added a second run when Boone singled home Harvey Kuenn.

Vic Wertz hit a home run in the Brownie fifth to narrow Detroit's margin to one run.

The Tigers countered again in the sixth on a bases loaded fly ball only to see St. louis tie the score 5-5 on singles by Clint Courtney and Wertz and a two-bagger by Roy Sievers.

The Browns took a brief one-run lead in the eighth. Detroit bounced back with a pair of runs in the 9th. However St. Louis sent the game into overtime with a single run in their half of the inning.

Then came Boone's blast two innings later and the Tigers had swept the series.

It Paid Worthington Not To Heed Expert's Advice

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Once in a while it pays not to heed expert advice. Take the case of the New York Giants and their new pitching sensation, Allan Worthington, ho pitched a two-hit, 6-0 shutout over Philadelphia Monday in a brilliant major league debut.

Until last Friday Worthington was a Giant farmhand with Minneapolis. Although he was burning up the Association with a 9-4 record, his manager, Freddie Fitzsimmons, advised against bringing him up to the big time.

"The kid is a great prospect," Fitzsimmons said in effect, "but he's not quite ready. He's got to brush up on his control."

Three days fter his arrival, Worthington, with less than two and a half seasons of professional baseball, held the Phils to two hits —doubles by Johnny. Wyrostek and Smokey Burgess and struck out six. He gave up four walks, one intentional.

"It was the best game I have pitched in my life," said the strapping 6-2 former University of Alabama thlete in the lubhouse after the game. "I used mostly a fast ball and a slider. I threw only four curve balls, and not until late in the game."

Card Bat Star Boosts Average

NEW YORK (AP) — Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals gained five points last week (.351 on 11 hits for 27 at bats) to hold the lead in National League hitting. Frankie Baumholtz of Chicago moved into the runner-up spot with 14-for-32 and a .331 mark.

In the American League, George Kell replaced his Boston Red Sox teammate, Billy Goodman, as the batting leader. Kell collected 12 safeties in 29 trips and hiked his percentage 11 points to .341. Goodman dropped to third place as Pete Suder of the Philadelphia Athletics picked up nine points and jumped from sixth to second Suder is hitting at .326 and Goodman, who fell off eight points. .324.

Behind Schoendienst and Baumholtz in the National League are Brooklyn Dodgers Jackie Robinson and Carl Furillo tied with .328.

Ted Kluszewski. Cincinnati's slugging first baseman, retained his National League home run lead with 25. Al Rosen of Cleveland, hit five homers to run his total to 21 and take the American League lead away from Philadelphia's Gus Zernial, who has 19.

Williams Is Confident He'll Return To Game

TOKYO (AP) —Marine Capt. Ted Williams left for the United States today, confident that his ear and nose ailment will not prevent him from resuming his baseball career.

The former Boston Red Sox slugger said he expects to be discharged in October.

Joyce McNamara Recent Bride Of Elks Rapids Man

At a ceremony performed at Our Lady of Victory Chapel, Naval Base, Norfolk, Va., on June 24, Miss Joyce McNamara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. McNamara, 702 Oak St., became the bride of William R. Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Butler, of Elk Rapids. The Rev. Charles W. Lawler officiated at the 4 p. m. ceremony.

The bride was attired in a waltz length gown of chantilly rosepoint lace and nylon tulle over satin, designed with chantilly lace jacket with long sleeves coming to a point at the wrists. Deep scallops of lace formed the lower part of the skirt. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle was held by a headdress of seed pearls and baguettes on satin. She carried a shower bouquet of white gladiolus.

Mrs. Dolores Willoughby, of Toronto, Ohio, was matron of honor. She wore an aqua waltz length gown of net over taffeta fashioned with strapless dress and stole. Her headpiece was of flowers. She carried a shower bouquet of rose gladiolus.

William Willoughby, of Toronto, Ohio, served as best man.

A dinner for the wedding party and close friends was held following the ceremony at the Pine Tree Inn, Virginia Beach, Va. The couple left later on a wedding trip to Ohio and points in the east. They will make their home in Lansing where the groom will be employed as industrial arts and physical education instructor.

The bride is a graduate of Manistique high school and will be a senior at Central Michigan College of Education, Mt. Pleasant, where she will resume her studies in the fall. She is a member of the Alpha Psi Omega Honorary Dramatics fraternity. She was the Homecoming and 4th of July queen in 1950. The groom graduated from Elk Rapids high school and from Central Michigan College in 1951. He is a member of the Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity. He has served in the Navy for the past two years and just returned from a six months cruise in the Mediterranean.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday from Kefauver and Jackson funeral home. Burial will be made in the new Garden cemetery.

Ann Arbor Will Build New Boat

The board of directors of the Ann Arbor Railroad Company has approved the construction of a new carferry, slated to be the largest, fastest and most modern of the firm's Lake Michigan fleet, it was announced here yesterday by Arthur Thorp, commercial agent.

Details of the new ship were not available to Thorp who said, however, that it will be bigger than the Wabash, largest of the present fleet of six carferries. The Wabash, with 15 passenger staterooms and a railroad car capacity of 30, is 380 feet long and weighs 3,366 gross tons.

The railroad company has advertised for construction bids but no contract has yet been let. It is expected that the new boat will be completed in 1954. Cost is estimated at approximately $6,000,000.

Construction of the new boat, which will be added to the fleet now serving Frankfort, Manistique, Menominee, Kewaunee and Manitowoc, is in keeping with the Ann Arbor's current modernization policy, Thorp said.

Three years ago the company completed the dieselization of its railroads, and last year the Manistique and Lake Superior line between Manistique and Shingleton was equipped with heavier rails and also dieselized, he said. More ballast will be added to the local line this year.

Charter Revision:

Municipal Court, Civil Service Sections Ready For Hearing Wednesday

Provisions for a municipal court and civil service in the City of Escanaba will be considered when the Escanaba Charter Revision Commission meets at 7:30 p. m., Wednesday in council chambers in City Hall.

Interested citizens have been asked to present suggestions to the Commission on these two proposed charter chapters at the meeting Wednesday night.

Chairman for the Commission, which began meetings April 14, is Carl Sawyer. Other members are Miss Nina Ley, Mrs. Kay Gunderson, Atty. Wheaton Strom, Hilmer Johnson, Carl F. L. Johnson, George Embs, Lowell Hebbard and Donald Moreau.

Preliminary draft of the proposed Civil Service and Municipal Court sections follow:

CREATION OF COURT:

Section 16.1. Effective on January 2, 1955 the Justice of the Peace Court of the City of Escanaba is hereby abolished and the powers, jurisdiction and duties of said Court are consolidated into one Municipal Court to be presided over by a Municipal Judge. This Municipal Court is created under the Authority of Section 28 of Public Act 279 of 1909.

PENDING LITIGATION:

Section 16.2. The Municipal Judge shall be empowered to receive and take from the office of the Justice of the Peace herein abolished, all files, records and documents kept therein, appertaining to said offices. The Municipal Judge shall be empowered to issue executions according to law, upon any judgment appearing upon said dockets with the same effect as if said judgment had been rendered by him. The Municipal Judge shall have transferred to him any and all actions or proceedings pending in the Justice of the Peace Courts abolished herein and he shall have full jurisdiction to proceed with such actions or proceedings in the same manner as if they had been brought before him originally.

JURISDICTION OF COURTS:

Section 16.3. (a) General Jurisdiction. The Court shall have and exercise within the City and County of Delta the same jurisdiction, powers and duties as are or may be conferred upon or required of Justices of the Peace in cities and townships by statute and shall be subject to such statues with respect to such Justices except as otherwise provided in this charter. The Court shall have concurrent jurisdiction with other Justices in Delta County as to all crimes, offenses and misdemeanors alleged to have been committed within Delta County, whether within or without the city. The proceedings in all suits and actions before the Court shall, except as otherwise provided in this charter, be according to and governed by the statutes applicable to justice courts and to the proceedings before such courts.

(b) Charter and Ordinance Cases—The Court shall have authority to hear, try and determine all suits and prosecutions for the recovery and enforcing of fines, penalties and forfeitures impower by this charter and the ordinances of the city, and to punish offenders for the violation of such charter and ordinances as in the charter or ordinances prescribed and directed.

(c) Extended Jurisdiction—The Court shall also have jurisdiction to the amount of five hundred dollars in all civil matters ex contractu and ex delicto with such exceptions and restrictions as are provided by law.

(d) County-wide Jurisdiction—The Court shall have jurisdiction in civil causes in all towoships and cities throughout the county up to the full amount of the jurisdiction of said court. This jurisdiction is in accordance with the provisions of Section 28-A of Public Act 219 of 1909 and of Subsection 6 of Section 10 of Chapter LGVI of Public Act 314 of 1915.

(e) Causes Where All Parties are Residents of City—The Court shall have exclusive jurisdiction, concurrent jurisdiction of courts of record excepted, in causes or proceedings where all the parties to the same reside in said city at the time of the commencement of the proceeding or cause, and in case where the original cause of action existed in favor of a plaintiff and against a defendant, both residents of the city, and has been assigned to a non-resident of said city. This jurisdiction is granted pursuant to the provisions of Section 10 of Chapter LXVI of Public Act 314 of 1915.

(f) Setting Aside Verdicts—The Court shall have such power and authority as can under Section 28 of Public Act 279 of 1909 be conferred by this charter to set aside the verdict or judgment in any civil cause and grant a new trial therein, to be exercised in such manner and on such conditions as provided in said act. The filing of a motion for new trial or to set aside a verdict or judgment shall have such effect on the time for taking an appeal from any judgment and upon the issuance and levy of execution or other similar process and sale thereunder and on other proceedings in said cause as provided in said act

(g) Additional Authority—The Court shall have such additional jurisdiction, powers and duties as may now and hereafter be conferred upon such courts by statute.

QUALIFICATIONS OF MUNICIPAL JUDGE:

Section 16.4. The Municipal Judge shall meet the eligibility requirements contained in Section 5.1 and, in addition, shall have been a resident of Escanaba for five years immediately prior to the last day for filing petitions for such office and shall be an attorney in good standing admitted to practice law in the Supreme Court of this state immediately preceding the date of his appointment or election. Neither he nor his business partners nor their employes shall have any part in any case before this Court.

COMPENSATION OF JUDGE:

Section 16.5. The Municipal Judge shall receive such annual compensation as shall be fixed by ordinance, but not less than three thousand dollars nor more than six thousand dollars per year, such salary to be paid in the same manner as other city officers are paid. The first such ordinance may be passed after June 1, 1954, but no ordinance fixing his salary may be enacted or amended less than one hundred and twenty days before the next election at which a Municipal Judge is to be elected nor may his compensation be changed during the term of office for which he was elected or appointed. Until otherwise provided by ordinance the salary of the office shall be thirty-six hundred dollars per year.

The salary for the office provided by charter or ordinance shall be in lieu of all fees, both in civil and criminal cases, to which the Judge might be entitled but for the provisions of this section, except those for the performance of marriage ceremonies and for administering oaths in matters not connected with suits and proceedings in his court.

The Municipal Judge shall be entitled to the same vacation and sick leave as are the administrative officers of the city. Should his absence exceed such allowance, then the compensation paid to the Judge or justice who serves during such absences in excess of such leave shall be deducted from the compensation of the Municipal Judge. It is provided, however, that such deduction shall not be made because of disqualification because of interest in the case or because of absence from the city on official business of the Court.

BOND:

Section 16.6. The Municipal Judge shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, give bonds to the Treasurer of the County of Delta in such sum as provided by statute and to the City of Escanaba in like amount. Such bonds shall be subject to the provisions of Section 5.8.

PLACE AND CONDUCT OF COURT;

ANNUAL REPORT:

Section 16.7. The Council shall furnish necessary supplies and a suitable place for conducting Court. It may regulate the hours of court and may make other necessary and proper rules and regulations for the conduct of the business of the Court which are not inconsistent with this charter or statute.

The Municipal Judge shall file with the Council an annual report of the Court for the fiscal year in such manner as the Council shall prescribe.

DOCKET:

Section 16.8. There shall be kept at the place of holding Court a docket or dockets in the manner required by statute. Failure of the Municipal Judge to make provisions for the maintenance of such a docket shall constitute misconduct in office.

TRIALS:

Section 16.9. The trial of cases by jury shall be otherwise conducted as provided by law for trials by jury before Justices of the Peace in townships and cities, provided that it shall be the duty of the Municipal Judge to instruct the jury as to the law applicable to the case, which instructions shall be received by the jury as the law of the case.

The Council may by ordinance provide that jury cases be set for trial upon one or more certain days of each month, or as soon thereafter as such trial can be reached, and may therein establish terms for the trial of jury cases, and may provide therein that a panel of jurors shall be drawn and certified to the Court Clerk in the manner provided by law for the drawing of Circuit Court jurors, all in accordance with the provisions therefor contained in Section 28 of Public Act 279 of 1909.

PROMOTED TO SERGEANT — John Nadeau, USA, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delore Nadeau, 1403 S. 13th St., who has been serving in Korea 13 months, was recently promoted to sergeant. Sgt. Nadeau is expected to return to the United States sometime in July.

FEES AND COSTS:

Section 16.10. The Council shall within ninety days after the effective date of this charter enact an ordinance establishing and fixing the fees and costs which may be taxed by the Court in all civil matters and in all cases for violations of the charter or city ordinances and fixing fees and costs not inconsistent with statute in Criminal matters.

DISPOSITION OF FEES, COSTS AND FINES:

Section 16.11. Fees in civil cases shall be collected by the Court and turned over to the City Treasurer on the First and fifteenth of each month. Fees in criminal cases shall be charged and presented to and audited by the Board of Supervisors of Delta County, in the same manner and amounts as provided by law in the case of justices of the peace in townships, and upon allowance by said Board, shall be paid monthly by said county to the City Treasurer for the use and benefit of the city. The Court shall turn over to the Delta County Treasurer all costs and fines in state criminal cases. The Court shall turn over to the City Treasurer all costs and fines in city ordinance or charter cases.

SUBSTITUTE JUDGE OR JUSTICE:

Section 16.12. Any cause pending before the Court may, whenever the Municipal Judge is unable to act in such cause at the time the matter comes before the Court, be transferred upon his order or, in case of his absence, by the Court Clerk to one of the other Municipal Judges or Justices of the Peace in Delta County without any notice to the parties in such cause, but a note of such transfer shall be entered upon the docket of the case, and when two or more Judges or Justices shall have acted in any one cause or proceeding, the docket shall be signed in the manner and within the time provided by law by the Judge or Justice who shall have given the final judgment in such cause.

The Council shall by ordinance fix the compensation to be paid Justices or Judges for such services and, unless so provided by ordinance, no such Justice or Judge shall so act or be entitled to compensation therefor. The provisions of such ordinance relative to such compensation may not be amended less than one hundred and twenty days before the next election at which a Municipal Judge is to be elected nor may such compensation be changed during the term of office for which any Municipal Judge was elected. The first such ordinance shall provide that such compensation shall be fifteen dollars per day for regular sessions of the Court and other matters pertaining to the office.

COURT CLERK:

Section 16.13. The City Manager with the confirmation of the Council shall appoint a Court Clerk and, if the Council so provides, one or more deputy clerks whose compensation and duties shall be determined in accordance with Section 4.6. The Court Clerk and deputy clerks may hold other city office or employment.

Such Clerk and deputy clerks shall, by virtue of their office, be empowered to administer oaths to persons making affidavits for writs in civil causes and to issue all processes and test the same in the name of the Municipal Judge, and shall be required to collect all fees in civil causes and all costs and fines in criminal causes and all moneys paid into court for security for costs, bail or otherwise. The Clerk shall enter a record of the same in books kept by him for that purpose and to pay over the same to the authorities of the city or county or other persons entitled to same, as directed by the proper authorities or by law, and the Council shall cause the books of such clerks to be audited at least once each year to ascertain that such books are correctly kept and all moneys received have been properly accounted for.

COURT OFFICERS:

Section 16.14. The Manager upon request of the Municipal Judge may assign a police officer of the city to the Court who shall have all the duties and powers of court officers of the Circuit Courts of the state and shall serve in such capacity at the pleasure of the City Manager. Such officer shall receive no compensation except such as he may be entitled to as a police officer. All fees and mileage allowances received by such officer in the performance of the duties imposed upon him during his tour of duty shall be paid into the city treasury in accordance with Section 5.11.

CONSTABLES:

Section 16.15. The City Manager shall appoint one or more police officers of the city as Constables such Constables shall have like power and authority in matters of civil and criminal nature, and in relation to the service of process, civil and criminal, as are conferred by law on Constables in townships. They shall have power also to serve all process issued for breaches of ordinances of the city. The bond of Constables shall be that required of Constables in townships and shall otherwise be subject to the provisions of Section 5.8. The statutory fees received by such Constables shall be paid into the city treasury in accordance with Section 5.11 except service made after tour of duty.

VIOLATIONS BUREAU:

Section 16.16. The Council shall have power and authority to establish by ordinance a Violations Bureau within the Court for the handling of such violations of ordinances and regulations of the city, or parts thereof, as prescribed in the ordinance establishing such Bureau. Any person who has received any notice to appear in answer to a charge of violating any of such ordinances may within the time specified in the notice of such charge answer at the Violations Bureau to the charges set forth in such notice by paying a fine prescribed by ordinance which cannot be waived by the Bureau, and in writing pleading guilty to the charge, waiving a hearing in court and giving power of attorney to make such a plea and pay such fine in Court. Acceptance of the prescribed fine and the power of attorney by the Bureau shall be deemed to be complete satisfaction for the violation, and the violator shall be given a receipt which so states. The creation of such a Bureau shall not operate so as to deprive any person of a full and impartial hearing in Court should such person so choose.

CIVIL SERVICE

PROVISION FOR CIVIL SERVICE BY ORDINANCE:

Section—. The City Council may provide by ordinance for a system of Civil Service for the city, which shall observe the principles and spirit of this chapter and the statutes of the State of Michigan.

CIVIL SERVICE BOARD AND EXEMPTIONS FROM CIVIL SERVICE:

Section—. Such system shall provide for a non-salaried board of three or more members to administer the Civil Service, no member of which board shall be an elective officer of the City of Escanaba. It shall exempt from Civil Service the City Manager, all officials elected by the people, the directors of departments, Assistant Manager, members of appointive boards, the City Clerk and City Assessor.

RULES AND REGULATIONS:

Section—. The Civil Service Board shall formulate rules and regulations covering the selection and promotion of municipal employes (it being required that, so far as is possible and consistent with public welfare, all appointments and promotions in any and all departments of the city be made from employes of such departments, in the order of their seniority, who can qualify under the Civil Service system and who desire to take the necessary examinations for such appointments or promotion.) Where competitive tests are used and eligible lists created, appointments shall be made from the three candidates standing highest on such lists. Such rules and regulations shall forbid appointment on any other grounds than those of fitness for the position to be filled, and shall prevent favoring or discriminating against any applicant or employe because of his or her political, religious or industrial opinions or affiliations.

ADMINISTRATION:

Section—. The City Manager or other official or Board in whom is vested disciplinary or removal power, shall be allowed full freedom in his or its action in such matters, it being the intent and spirit of this section to provide a fair and honest approach to municipal employment for every inhabitant of the city, but in no way to handicap or curtail the responsible administrative officers in securing efficient service.

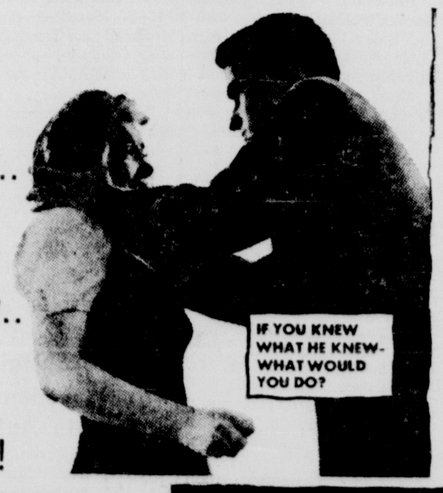

HOURS OF WORK:

Section—. The principle of the eight-hour basic day is hereby recognized and wherever and whenever practically consistent with the best interests and public welfare of the city, it shall be put in full force and effect in all public works and employment.
